

Follow Reports On Plane

Two Very Different Reports Are Given On Missing Craft Reported Fired Upon

ROME, Nov. 23—(AP)—Clearing skies sent ground and air searchers out in force today to pin down reports on a U. S. air force plane missing since Monday with four men aboard.

One unconfirmed report said wreckage had been sighted among the jagged peaks of northeast Italy's Dolomite mountains, 40 miles east of Bolzano.

Another report, from a traveler arriving in Vienna, said the plane was shot down by Romanian army border guards as it touched the Iron Curtain on its flight from Germany to Belgrade.

Neither is Confirmed

Neither report could be confirmed officially.

Clouds and fogs which previously had hampered the search cleared today. Twenty U. S. planes based on Treviso air field, in northeast Italy, swept the skies above that section and Yugoslavia.

Italian police and U. S. ground searchers were working in the Dolomites, trying to check the report of the sighted wreckage.

The U. S. Embassy in Belgrade said Tuesday that the pilot of the C-47 transport plane reported being fired on by Hungarian and Romanian border guards.

But the embassy report said he apparently realized he was lost and turned back. In two later reports he said he was near the Croatian capital of Zagreb, headed towards Udine, Italy, which lies at the foot of the Alpine Dolomites.

Say Wreckage Sighted

An American air force officer directing the search from an Italian air base said information received by radio from Wiesbaden, Germany, reported the wreckage of a plane had been sighted near the mountain village of Pieve Di Cadore.

However, U. S. air force headquarters at Wiesbaden said it had no information on the reported sighting of the wreckage.

Police at Pieve Di Cadore said they heard a plane flying over the area Monday evening. A Rome report said a farmer in the area heard a violent explosion that night. The police said they had not heard of the explosion.

Bad weather has hampered the air search for the plane, which was carrying supplies to the U. S. Embassy in Belgrade.

One of the American planes which took off from Treviso, Italy, got lost over Yugoslavia in the haze yesterday and strayed from the triangular search area specially outlined by Premier Marshal Tito's government.

A Yugoslav fighter plane forced it down near the port city of Pula, 40 miles from Trieste at the tip of the Istrian peninsula.

Held In Slaying Of Father-in-law

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 23—(AP)—Joe Denny, 21, is being held for questioning here after the death of his father-in-law.

The state highway patrol said yesterday that Roscoe Pryor, 52, was killed at his farm one and a half miles east of Purdy, Mo., in Barry county.

The patrol said Pryor was beaten with a broom handle.

'Lost' for Six Mysterious Years, Man Returns to Kin

DETROIT, Nov. 23—(AP)—Given up as dead, 28-year-old David Yerke today was probing the mists of a past that kept him from his family for six mysterious years.

Yerke, his wife, Douglas 24, and their six-year-old daughter, Sharon, celebrated a joyous Thanksgiving reunion yesterday.

The day marked Yerke's return after being missing since Dec. 26, 1945. On that day he had headed out alone into the Gulf of Mexico off Tarpon Springs, Fla., in the boat he and a brother used for commercial sponge fishing.

Two days later the abandoned boat was found, anchored 15 miles from shore. Still later, Coast Guardsmen found the boat's dory floating in the open sea. Yerke was given up as lost in the waters of the gulf.

Then, last week, the man from the "dead" returned. He telephoned his brother, Herman, 28, at the Yerke home in suburban Grosse Pointe Woods.

Yerke was calling from New Orleans. He said flashes of his memory had started to return to him a month ago when he suffered a partial paralytic stroke while working as an orderly in a New Orleans hospital.

Finally, he said, he recalled the name of his father, Adolph, and the fact that he lived in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Today David is under the care of doctors. He is much wasted physically. And there are still many gaps in his memory. But his wife believes he may remember more details of those missing years in the days to come.

Mrs. Yerke, who lived in Florida during the years her husband was missing, joined him here.

Negotiators Reach Agreement On Buffer Zone for Armistice

Possibility of War Being Over Perhaps By Christmas as Truce Talk Hurdle Comes at 29th Subcommittee Meeting

MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 23—(AP)—Truce negotiators reached agreement on a buffer zone clause today, opening the way for a possible armistice in Korea by Christmas.

"We have reached agreement in so far as the working is concerned," Rear Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, U. N. Command subcommittee member, told correspondents. "The only thing left now is for the liaison officers who are working on the map to finish."

Agreement on the buffer zone issue came at the 29th subcommittee meeting in Panmunjom.

If the agreement is approved by the full truce delegation, as expected, negotiators would have 30 days in which to solve three other tough problems—supervision of the armistice, exchange of war prisoners and recommendations to the belligerent governments.

Fighting Will Continue

Fighting will continue in the war now 17 months old until all of these points are settled.

Maj. Gen. Henry L. Hodes, chief U. N. Command subcommittee member, indicated the full five-man delegations could meet Sunday to approve the buffer zone agreement worked out by subcommittees.

Staff officers Friday started mapping the actual line of battle contact. This is to become the formal cease-fire line if an armistice is signed within 30 days. Hodes said they may complete the job Saturday.

Wait For Next Session

"We are waiting until whatever time is appropriate to meet again and make—we hope sometime tomorrow—(Saturday) afternoon, the final settlement on the line," Hodes said.

The staff officers meet again at 10 a. m. Saturday (7 p. m. Friday, CST).

Hodes said that if the staff officers disagree on just where the battle line is, the subcommittee will settle the dispute.

Final approval of the buffer zone agreement was delayed during Friday's 50 minute session because Communist delegates wanted to change the translation into Chinese and Korean of the U. N. Command revision of the Reds' own cease-fire proposals.

Reds Approve 'Wording'

They called for a recess to compare the versions. Later a spokesman said the "wording" was approved.

The plan provides that the present battle line shall be the formal cease-fire line if an armistice is signed within 30 days.

If no agreement is reached before the deadline, a new demarcation line incorporating changes resulting from military action will be drawn just before an armistice is signed. Line both armies will pull back to create a buffer zone 2 1/2 miles wide.

India to Present Disarmament Plan If Others Fail

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 23—(AP)—India is planning to push a compromise disarmament formula in the United Nations in the event neither the American nor Soviet plans appear to have any chance of acceptance, the foreign ministry indicated today.

The Indian three-point peace plan, as already outlined by Sir Benegal N. Rau, India's chief representative at the U. N. calls for:

1. Korean armistice; 2. Acceptance of the principle of coordination of reduction of both atomic and conventional weapons; 3. A closed door session of the United States, Russia, Britain and China to work out a "war" declaration and a compromise disarmament scheme.

$62,000 In Bank Robbery

Two Men Hold Up Prairie Village Institution Today; Locked Up Employees

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 23—(AP)—Two bandits fled with an estimated $62,000 today after holding up the Johnson County National bank of Prairie Village in Johnson county, Kansas.

They forced an employee to admit them to the bank before the regular opening hour, herded 13 employees into the vault and fled in a late model yellow convertible.

Later the Johnson county sheriff's office reported the conspicuous getaway car was abandoned and the bandits entered a black Buick sedan, which was driven rapidly toward Kansas City.

Forced to Open Vault

The bandits were described as about 25 years old. They wore white coveralls. One was armed with an M-1 army rifle and the other with a .38 caliber pistol.

Hugh Doherty, cashier, who was forced to open the vault for the two men, estimated the loss at $62,000.

They were in the bank about 15 minutes, but went about their work so quietly that persons in the loan department in the basement were not aware that a robbery was in progress.

The men knocked on the door just before opening time and asked to be admitted. Mrs. Beverly Godfrey, a bookkeeper, who was the only employee there at the time, refused to open the door. However, when they displayed their weapons she admitted them.

As other employees appeared for work they were herded into the lobby and ordered to remove their coats. After forcing Doherty to open the vault to obtain the money, the bandits herded the employees into the vault.

Employees Released Silver

The employees released themselves with a key after the robbers left.

Prairie Village is an incorporated area just west of the Missouri state line in Kansas.

It was one of the biggest bank robberies in the Kansas City metropolitan area in 25 years.

In February, 1928, bandits obtained more than $50,000 at the City National bank. The following June, during the Republican national convention here, the Home Trust Company was robbed of between $25,000 and $30,000.

The move today was seen by many as a Moscow maneuver to bolster Vishinsky's arguments when he takes the floor in the political committee tomorrow. Vishinsky has been holding up his answer on the western proposal. Now he is expected to allude to the latest charge against the west as "exposing" another U. S. warlike act.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson said he hoped Vishinsky's speech would display a "serious and cooperative" Russian attitude to the west's disarmament proposals, adding that he was "encouraged by the initial response of many nations" to the three-power plan. Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Eden went to Rome today for the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

As for the new Soviet charges that the U. S. was fostering subversion behind the Iron Curtain, these must go to the 14-nation steering committee which will decide whether the assembly will debate the matter.

In the U. N. trusteeship committee, France walked out in protest against an Egyptian attack on the French rule of Morocco. French Delegate Leon Pignon and his staff left when Egyptian Delegate Fouad El Pharaony made the attack. The French said the committee had no right to discuss political matters. The question of Moroccan independence is not on the committee agenda, although the Arab bloc wants to put it there.

Prolonged War in Korea May Change U.S. Air War Policy

Outcome of Truce Talks Holds Key To Whether Airmen Continue Halfway Measures Or Go To All-Out Bombings

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—(AP)—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, threw out last night this hint that prolongation of the fighting in Korea may bring a change in U. S. air war policy.

"The outcome of the present truce negotiations holds the key to whether we will continue fighting a war of half-way measures in Korea—a war which, at present, halts our air power at the Yalu river and gives the enemy sanctuary in Manchuria."

United Nations and Communist negotiators in Korea today reached an agreement in principle on where to establish a cease-fire line.

Led to Firing MacArthur

The maintenance of the Manchurian sanctuary was one of the disagreements between General Douglas MacArthur and President Truman which led to the general's ouster as U. N. commander in Korea. He wanted to bomb Red Chinese bases in Manchuria and take other measures to extend the war. The administration contended MacArthur's program might touch off a third world war.

Appearing on a Mutual network program, Vandenberg called the air war in Korea "a peculiar type of operation" which he said has not really utilized U. S. air power.

"We can't knock out the enemy's potential at its source," he said. "We are operating mainly in a tactical role—the role of air power to assist ground forces."

Have New Atomic Weapon

Vandenberg said recent Nevada tests have given the air force "a new atomic tactical weapon which can be utilized against armies in the field" but he added that some bugs remain to be worked out.

The air chief of staff discounted reports that the U. S. has suffered heavy losses in the operations of B-29s, the World War II heavy bombers now classed as mediums. He said:

"As of now, we have had 11 losses out of 11,571 sorties. As to jet-to-jet combat, we have knocked down six to their one. The situation is that in some respects our F-86 is superior to the Russian Mig-15, while in other respects the Russian Mig is superior to our F-86."

Vandenberg had told a news conference on Wednesday that U. N. air superiority in Korea is being seriously challenged by the Mig-15 but so far the situation is in his hand. He said that with the obvious help from Russia, China "overnight xxx has become one of the major air powers of the world."

Moscow Warns Middle East Nations Not To Join With West

LONDON, Nov. 23—(AP)—The Moscow radio said today that the Soviet government has warned the countries of the Middle East against joining the American-British backed plan for Middle East defense.

Participation in the plan, the broadcast said, "will cause serious damage to relations" existing between the Middle East countries and the Soviet Union.

Dentist Gets 96 Pints Of Blood For Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23—(AP)—Dr. Lorne A. Tanner had many reasons to be thankful yesterday—more than 100 anonymous blood donors made it possible for his blood supply to be changed eight times during an operation.

Doctors said 96 pints of blood were pumped into the 36-year-old dentist's veins during an operation Sunday for internal hemorrhage. Additional transfusions used several more pints.

Revived From Dead, Soldier Finally Dies

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23—(AP)—A veteran of the war in Korea—after his heart stopped beating for nine days—died last Sunday at the Jefferson Barracks Veterans Administration hospital.

Former Army Cpl. Robert L. Weckman of Collinsville, Ill., had been in a semi-coma since the operation at a U. S. Naval hospital in Philadelphia last May.

Thanks Dinner Served Needy By VFW, Aux

Between 250 and 275 Children, and Others Have Feast at Hall

Between 250 and 275 children and some adults of needy families of Sedalia were served Thanksgiving dinner Thursday at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall, 107 1/2 West Main.

Turkey and goose were the main dishes of the menu and were furnished by the V. F. W. Post, No. 2508, with its auxiliary cooking and serving the meal. The remainder of the food was furnished by some of the local grocery stores.

To those who were ill and not able to go to the hall, the V. F. W. members spent the afternoon taking dinners, because there were many who could not be there.

A bus was furnished by the bus company to take the children back and forth and serving was from 1 to 4 p. m.

When the last little hungry youngster had been served there was still a lot of food left so the V. F. W. members and auxiliary divided it up and took it to the neediest families.

When the kitchen was cleaned up and all started home there were a lot of tired people among the members of the V. F. W. and its auxiliary, but they all agreed they had never had a nicer Thanksgiving.

After weeks of negotiation with Attorney General McGrath during which it did not get the type of access to Justice Department files it wanted, the subcommittee appealed to Mr. Truman. At Key West, Fla., presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short said its request is still "under consideration."

Elsewhere, this was the picture: 1. An impending shake-up of personnel in the Detroit Internal Revenue office reportedly was in prospect. King subcommittee sources said a number of Detroit employees were expected to be reassigned, transferred or suspended.

Senator Moody (D-Mich.) recently referred to the group what he termed evidence of irregularities in the Detroit office of the Internal Revenue Bureau. The bureau itself and the House committee conducted investigations. An announcement relating to the inquiry—set originally for this week—is now expected next Monday or Tuesday.

2. A special investigation is being made of J. Frank Wilcox, chief of audits in the Oklahoma City office of the Collector of the Internal Revenue. Shortly after the announcement, Wilcox's attorney disclosed in Oklahoma City that the audit chief had submitted his resignation Nov. 6.

The nature of the investigation was not disclosed. But Charles E. Dierker, attorney for Wilcox, issued a statement saying: "I believe Wilcox was quite indiscreet in some instances, but I'm sure he has done no real harm."

3. The House committee prepared a formal report on its preliminary announcement Wednesday that it had found "not one scrap of evidence" that its chairman, Rep. King, had intervened improperly in three southern California tax cases.

Reviving the spirit of the first Thanksgiving by the Pilgrims, a day of gathering together for a feast and thanking God for the harvest of the past year, the Maplewood community again held its annual Thanksgiving get-together Thursday.

On the table was typical, old-fashioned rural dinner with several different kinds of meat, all kinds of vegetables and other things—and then—pies just any kind of pie anybody wanted.

The custom was started several years ago by the Maplewood community when all the families in that community took their Thanksgiving dinners and went to the community hall. Each year since they have done the same thing and some of their friends are invited to share in the feast. Then there is a Thanksgiving program and sermon.

More than 50 attended the dinner Thursday which was served cafeteria style. The invocation was by the Rev. J. W. Watts.

At 1:30, the following program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Luther Landis:

A piano solo by Mrs. John Rundlett followed by the group singing "America" and "America, the Beautiful."

Mrs. Landis read several Thanksgiving poems after which three Psalms, in which thanks are given, were read by Mrs. Ed Heffernan.

Miss Alice Rissler sang a solo. The Thanksgiving sermon was by the Rev. J. W. Watts who spoke of Thanksgiving as a way of repaying God for the blessings that have been given.

The program closed with a piano solo by Mrs. J. W. Watts.

Uiju Jet Base Hit By Allies

Superforts Pour Bombs on Target; Jets Clash After Lull, Down 2 MIGs

SEOUL, Korea, Nov. 23—(AP)—Jets clashed over Korea today for the first time in five days. The fight came just 12 hours after superforts bombed a new Red jet base two miles from Red China's Manchurian frontier.

Two MIG-15s were damaged in a battle in bright sunlight between about 30 Red jets and 30 American F-84 Thunderjets, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported. It said all the Thunderjets returned safely.

During the night twelve B-29 superforts ignored an angry cordon of Red jets and roared through intense flak in the first bombing raid on the Communists' Uiju jet base.

The strike was effective, Far East air forces said. It reported all B-29s returned from the raid two miles south of the Yalu river boundary.

This strike so close to the "sanctuary of Manchuria" pointed up the mounting allied effort to block off the growing Communist air threat and keep the Reds from setting up bases in North Korea closer to the battle line.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of the U. S. air force, warned in Washington that Red China has emerged suddenly as a major air power. He said this new-born air force with Russian type jets and Russian speaking pilots has broken allied air supremacy in Korea although the United Nations still holds superiority.

Allied spotter planes recently reported MIGs nesting in Korea for the first time in the war. The field was Uiju. F-86 Sabres strafed the field Sunday, caught 11 MIGs on a taxi strip and reported eight destroyed or damaged.

Then the big superforts hit last night. Communist jets snarled around the B-29s but FEAF said they made no firing runs.

"The whole sky was full of searchlights," one crewman said. "It looked like they were trying to bracket us."

"We nailed the target and also knocked out a flak battery," another said. "When our bombs exploded the searchlights went out and the flak stopped."

Almost every night for a month, radar-guided B-29s have bombed new Red airfields farther south—at Namsi, Taechon and Saemcham.

They drop 100-pound bombs which crater the runways and force the Reds to fill each hole. Vandenberg said the continuous raids have prevented the Reds from using the three fields.

Radar-controlled anti-aircraft guns protect the air fields. Some specialists from Communist East Europe. They undoubtedly have damaged some B-29s.

Vandenberg estimated the Chinese Reds have about 1,500 planes in North China and Manchuria of which half are MIG jets. He said the MIG "in many respects can outperform our own F-86" Sabre jet, the top allied fighter operating in Korea.

Slumber Party Given Edith Anne Sartin

Mrs. Victor Sartin of Lincoln entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner and slumber party Monday in honor of the 12th birthday anniversary of her daughter, Edith Anne.

The dining table was centered with a large white cake decorated with pink flowers, green leaves and the inscription, "Happy Birthday," in pink. Twelve burning candles were on the cake.

Following the dinner and the opening of gifts, the girls attended the Lincoln PTA meeting where some of them appeared on the program.

Those attending were: Kay Christian, Judy Kay Michael, Maxine Jackson, Dixie Owens, Janet Rife, Janice Hansen and Edith Anne.

LaMonte PTA Has Librarian as Speaker

LA MONTE — The November meeting of the La Monte PTA was held at the school house Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, with a good attendance and a fine program. Mrs. Minsey Gregory, president, presided over the business meeting. Reports were given by all committees and Mrs. Floyd McKeehan, delegate to the state convention, gave her report.

The program was given by the third and fourth grades. The program chairman, Mrs. Paul Payne, was unable to attend and Mrs. Floyd McKeehan announced the numbers and Mrs. Robert Breen and Miss Mary Francis Burlingame, teachers, assisted. Miss Leister of the Sedalia Public Library gave an interesting talk on old and new books for children.

The December meeting will be a Christmas party and exchange of gifts.

Here for Thanksgiving

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Paulson, son and daughter, Timothy and Christie, of St. Louis, were Thanksgiving guests of Mrs. Paulson's grandmother, Mrs. Charles D. Parish, 408 West Fourth. Mr. Paulson returned to St. Louis that evening and the other members of the family remained to return home Saturday.

Christmas Decorations For Junior Garden Club

The Junior Garden club of Whittier school, sponsored by Garden club No. 4, met at the school Monday afternoon with Mrs. Roy Lierman, chairman, in charge.

Mrs. Fred Kueck was presented by Mrs. Lierman and gave a demonstration on Christmas door decorations.

The attendance at the meeting was small because of the epidemic of measles at Whittier school. The next meeting will be a Christmas party.

Mrs. Richard Lambert Hostess to LaMonte Homemakers Club

LA MONTE — Mrs. Richard Lambert was hostess to the La Monte Homemakers Extension club at her home Friday, Nov. 16.

Mrs. Arthur Perkins, president, opened the meeting and the secretary, Mrs. Jimmy Roberts, gave her report and read a poem. A contributive dinner was served to the following members: Mrs. Floyd McKeehan, Mrs. C. E. Dehaven, Mrs. Arthur Perkins, Mrs. Jimmy Roberts, Mrs. Stout, Mrs. Emmett Brown, Mrs. Alfred Brown, Mrs. Mary Ellis, Mrs. Ross A. Watts, Mrs. Pearl Mothershead, Mrs. Munsey Gregory, Mrs. Everett Wing, Mrs. Tom Montgomery, Mrs. E. P. Burke, Mrs. Richard Lambert, Mrs. J. L. Lindaman, Mrs. Glenn Wellman.

Guests were: Mrs. Craig Temple, Mrs. Paul Payne, Mrs. Ray Hudson and Mrs. Dale Hall.

The afternoon meeting was opened by singing the club song and Mrs. Ray Hudson, president of the Stokley Extension club, gave a talk and demonstration on figurine painting and explained the molding and making of figurines. Mrs. Glenn Wellman made a talk on raising fall lettuce and how and when to plant it. Mrs. Mothershead gave a most interesting talk on "Associated Country Women of the World"; Mrs. J. L. Lindaman, policy chairman, gave a talk on "Puzzled Over Attitude of Ones Helped".

Game and song leader, Mrs. Alfred Brown, introduced some new games and "America the Beautiful" was sung by the group. The Christmas meeting and exchange of gifts will be in the home of Mrs. Tom Montgomery.

Dance Instruction At Teen Town Tonite

The Sedalia Teen-Town has made arrangements with Peggie Hewitt Homan, Sedalia dancing instructor, to give instructions in dancing, to all teenagers tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the pine room of Teen Town. The instructions will be for both beginners and advanced dancers. There will be no extra charge to the teenagers. All other activities for the evening will be carried on, this is just an added feature.

GREETINGS RIGHT ON TIME!

WESTER SCULPTOR ALL KINDS OF CHISELS DONE

Thanksgiving Day" was the subject of the paper given by Mrs. Hardin E. Gouge in which she told of the first Thanksgiving day by song back as far as the days of Noah who gave thanks for deliverance from the flood and of the Indians who held a fall festival with thanks for harvests.

Thanksgiving days from 1621 until 1864 were never the same month or day until, through persistent efforts and forceful work of Sarah Josepha Hale, that a congressional action set the date for a national celebration in November, the speaker said.

Two films, "National Parks" and "The People's Charter" were shown to complete the program.

The reception committee was Mrs. Dimmitt Hoffman, Mrs. W. E. Terrill, Mrs. M. P. Shy, Mrs. D. P. Dyer, Mrs. T. J. Seegers, Mrs. W. D. O'Bannon and Mrs. A. J. Campbell.

Vinson Sees Truman Over Thanksgiving

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 23.—(P)—The White House brushed aside today questions on the political significance of President Truman's Thanksgiving holiday talks with Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short's assertion that he personally had not heard the President and his trusted friend and advisor "discuss a word of politics" did little to discourage speculation over the possible impact of the talks on the 1952 election campaign.

Many close to the President said he would like to see Vinson get the Democratic nomination for president if he follows Mr. Truman's urging and decides not to make the race himself.

Relatives Still Search for Missing 79-Year-Old Hunter

ANNAPOLIS, Mo., Nov. 23.—(P)—Seven relatives of a 79-year-old missing deer hunter tramped about 15 miles in the rain through Ozark woods yesterday without finding any trace of the man.

He is W. C. (Bill) Bounds of Vulcan, Iron county, who disappeared Nov. 5, first day of the deer hunting season, after he left a son-in-law to hunt on his own. Arthur A. Smith, another son-in-law, from St. Louis, said the group searched about eight hours.

Relatives plan to continue the search each day through Sunday. Several days ago a dog covered with human blood appeared in the area, but would not retrace its course.

Mossadegh Goes Home

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 23.—(P)—Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh left by plane today, carrying fresh plans to Tehran for binding Egypt and Iran closer together in a joint fight against "British imperialism." He is on his way home from a stay of almost seven weeks in Washington and a three-day visit here.

Korean War Brides Arrive, Hope Their In-laws Like Them

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—(P)—Ten Korean war brides and their soldier husbands hope to leave for their new homes in the United States today, anxious yet a bit apprehensive about meeting in-laws they've never seen.

The group arrived yesterday. The soldiers, home under the rotation plan, are being processed at Fort Mason.

"I'm happy to be in America because I'm with my husband," said 19-year-old Kang Sun Prim. "I much hope his family will like me."

Sgt. Floyd E. Prim of Battle Creek, Mich., assured her, "Mother wrote and said I was old enough to pick my own wife. We'll get along OK."

Three of the couple have young children and three others are expecting.

Boys Ride Bike 80 Miles for Thanks Dinner With Mother

CORTLAND, N. Y., Nov. 23.—(P)—Fifteen-year-old Richard Peck wanted to have Thanksgiving dinner with his mother. He wanted it badly enough to bicycle 80 miles.

Richard, who was staying with his grandparents at North Bay on Oneida Lake, had planned to drive with them yesterday to the home of his mother, Mrs. Clara Peck, in Cortland. When his grandmother became ill Richard took off alone at 6 a. m. on his bike.

Mrs. Peck reported he arrived at 1 p. m., just in time for dinner.

Finnegan Enters Plea Of Not Guilty Today

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23.—(P)—James P. Finnegan, former collector of internal revenue here, pleaded innocent today to charges of bribery and other misconduct in office and his trial was set for March 3.

Finnegan waived reading of the four-count indictment in which he is charged at his brief arraignment before Federal Judge Rubey M. Hulen.

Judge Hulen announced he may decide to have night sessions to shorten the trial—which U. S. Attorney George L. Robertson estimated will last for about a month.

Po River Flood Holds, 200,000 Are Homeless

ROVIGO, Italy, Nov. 23.—(P)—The waters of the swollen Po river continued to rise today, threatening further loss of life and destruction in northern Italy.

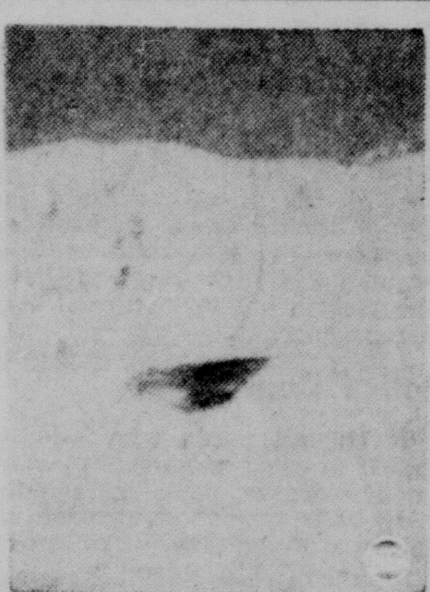

In two weeks, floods have driven 200,000 persons from their homes and caused damage of hundreds of millions of dollars. About 100 persons lost their lives.

Enemy Loss: 1,467,407

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(P)—The army today estimated total enemy casualties in Korea through Nov. 14 at 1,467,407, an increase of 9,941 over the previous week.

Americans Want Swift Action on European Federation for Aid

STRASBOURG, France, Nov. 23.—(P)—American Senators and Representatives framed a joint statement today that the U. S. wants swift action on a European federation in return for American aid.

The statement, to be presented in the Strasbourg conference with members of the European Consultative Assembly, expresses regret at the lack of progress to date and reminds Europe of the provision in the mutual security act for political federation and economic unity.

Father Sends Two Sons to Jail; Both Using Dope

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP)—A heartbroken father has sent two sons to jail within the past week to stop them from using dope, and perhaps cure them of the habit permanently.

Last Thursday Rafael Charres, 55, tearfully signed a narcotics complaint against his 20-year-old son, Frank.

Yesterday, his heart even heavier, the father signed a similar complaint against 18-year-old Antonio.

Both youths had received treatment in a federal institution at Lexington, Ky., but since they were discharged, they drifted back into the dope habit.

Authorities have promised to try to rehabilitate the youths, who must stay in jail pending further court action.

They are not angry with their father. They're grateful, both said, and hope they can be cured.

3-Year-Old Turkey Makes a Wonderful Thanksgiving Feast

The big old turkey had been in the deep freeze for three years and the day before Thanksgiving Ike Warren took it out and watched his wife unwrap it.

It didn't look so good to him—perhaps because he knew it was three years old.

To her—she felt she should have taken it out a day or so earlier at least. She wasn't at all certain that it would be thawed out for Thanksgiving dinner.

But the turkey thawed out in time—it cooked to a golden brown and even hubby said it was delicious.

OBITUARIES

Cletus Vollrath

Cletus Vollrath, 55, a veteran of World War I, died at the veterans hospital at Wadsworth, Kas., on Thursday, Nov. 22.

Mr. Vollrath had resided north-west of La Monte for many years, after being discharged from military service in 1918. He was born Feb. 20, 1896 near Lookout, Mo., the son of the late Emil and Fannie M. Vollrath. At an early age he volunteered with the Flat Creek Baptist church.

Surviving him are two brothers, Henry of Sedalia and Lee Vollrath of Green Ridge.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Parker funeral home in LaMonte, the Rev. C. S. Hawn of Warrensburg, officiating.

Pallbearers will be Carl Smith, D. G. Harrison, Wallace Summer-skill, Gordon Wade, Walter Pace and Luther Comfort.

Interment will be in LaMonte cemetery.

Ulie Ward

Ulie Ward, son of Charles and Emma Ward, was born Jan. 14, 1911 at Sedalia. While still a young boy, his family moved to Green Ridge and here he grew to young manhood, working with his father and two brothers in their blacksmith and mechanic shop.

He moved to Windsor when he was united in marriage to Louvena Raymer Houseworth on March 24, 1934. He opened the Windsor Tire shop in the spring of 1934 and had been associated in this business until the time of his death. He had also driven a school bus for the Windsor school district the past seven years.

He passed away at the Community hospital Nov. 13, after a brief illness.

He is survived by his wife, two foster children, Mrs. D. F. Pick-erill, Jr. of Windsor, and Miss Shirley Raymer, Kansas City; a grandson, David Pickerrill; his mother, two brothers, Charles and Victor; one sister, Mrs. Ben Cle-vering, all of Green Ridge; a sister, Mrs. Leo Nold, Sedalia; many nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

Services were held Thursday, Nov. 15, at 2 p. m. from the Hus-ton-Turner chapel with the Rev. C. Ernest Grace, pastor of the Windsor Christian church, in charge.

Mrs. L. R. Milan and Turner Sappington, accompanied by Mrs. Lois Johnston, provided the music.

Pallbearers were: Edward Shipp, Taylor Silver, Maurice Sampson, Orville Houseworth, Royal Agar, Harry Hukill, D. F. Pickerrill and O. J. Lewis.

Burial was in Laurel Oak cemetery at Windsor.

Ethel Marie Stanforth

Miss Ethel Marie Stanforth, 53, former resident of Green Ridge, died at Philadelphia, Pa., at 6:40 a. m. Monday, Nov. 19. She was the daughter of the late Wesley and Elizabeth Stanforth.

Miss Stanforth was born on a farm in Benton county near Lin-corn, Aug. 5, 1898. When a child she moved with her parents to Green Ridge where she received her education.

In 1917 her father died and a short time later she, with her mother, moved to Columbus, Ohio, where they lived with her sister, Mrs. Maude Weatherman. Later they moved to Philadelphia, where they resided for a time with a brother, Egbert. Her mother died several years ago and her brother has since moved to St. Louis.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Edith Stanforth of Independence, Kas., and Mrs. Weatherman, Co-lumbus; one brother, Egbert, of St. Louis; and several nieces and nephews survive.

The body was brought to Sedalia and taken Thursday evening to the McLaughlin chapel. Funeral services were conducted at the graveside in the Green Ridge cemetery at 2 o'clock Friday by the Rev. Lee F. Soxman, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church.

Lester Williams, 80, died un-expectedly at his home, 107 East Henry, Thursday afternoon.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Alice Williams of the home; three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Shelby and Mrs. Sarah Christian of Se-dalia, and Miss Georgina Williams of Kansas City; five sons, Fred Williams, Sedalia, Leonard Williams, Marshall, Charles Williams, and Lester Williams, all of Sedalia.

Funeral services for Dr. Frank W. Patterson, 75, of Springfield, Mo., will be held at 10:30 a. m., Saturday at the Alma Lohmeyer funeral home in that city. The body will be brought to Sedalia for interment with a graveside service at Memorial Park cemetery at 3 p. m.

Dr. Patterson, a dentist, was formerly in business at Tipton.

His death came instantly Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. when his auto-mobile and a truck collided about 27 miles south of Springfield.

Dr. Patterson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. William Meretta of New York, a brother, Dr. William R. Patterson, Warrensburg, and a sister, Mrs. S. W. Stinson, 1012 South Lamine, Sedalia. He was an uncle of Mrs. O. F. Hayes of 520 1/2 South Ohio, Sedalia. A sister, Mrs. A. Mansfield of Sedalia died on November 1.

Services for Edward Lee Glenn Thursday at 2 p. m., graveside services were held at Hickory Point cemetery for Edward Lee Glenn, who died in Culver City, Calif., Thursday, Nov. 15, the Rev. J. W. Kirchner of Green Ridge officiating. The body, preceding the services, had been at the Gillespie funeral home following arrival on Wednesday.

Daniel Lee Okey, aged almost four months, died at 8 p. m. Thursday while being brought to the Bothwell hospital here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Okey, Georgetown. Death resulted from pneumonia.

He was born July 30, 1951 and besides his parents is survived by three sisters, Barbara Lou, Marilyn Sue and Margaret Marie Okey. Also by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Brown, Hughesville.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin chapel where funeral services will be held at 10 a. m., Saturday, the Rev. Lee F. Soxman, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church, officiating.

$50,000 Damage Suit Filed Over Injuries

A suit seeking $50,000 for in-juries received in an automobile accident, has been filed in the Pettis county circuit court by Elsie Leiser, a minor, by her next friend, Rebecca G. Normand, against Beverly Warren.

The plaintiff in her petition al-leges she received permanent in-juries in an accident June 6, 1950 while riding as a passenger in the automobile driven by Miss Warren.

The accident occurred, it was stated, on Rockhill Road in Kansas City.

Miss Warren was the driver of the car which left the roadway and crashed into a tree.

The plaintiff resides at Park-ville, Mo., and is represented by Attorney David R. Clevenger of Platte City.

The subcommittee made public a report to the Senate along with more than 150 pages of testimony taken at private sessions in July, August and September during an inquiry into the Dining Car and Railroad Food Workers union.

The subcommittee said the poli-cies and activities of the small independent union, ever since its organization in 1947, "have been directed from the Communist party headquarters in New York City."

At present the union is certified as bargaining agent for only about 2,200 dining car employees of the Pennsylvania railroad, but Subcommittee Chairman McCar-ran (D-Nev.) said it is carrying on "an intensive membership campaign" in an effort to estab-lish itself on other lines from coast to coast.

Through the union, the senator said in a statement accompanying the report, "The Communist party has established the nucleus of a courier system on the railroads for communication between its underground leaders."

The exact membership of the union was not established in the hearings. Various testimony put the number of its members as be-tween 1,000 and 1,800.

The subcommittee recommended legislation to deny certification as a bargaining agent to any Communist controlled union in the railroad industry.

A similar recommendation relat-ing to other unions was made by the Senate group in an earlier re-port on an investigation of the American Communications associa-tion, an independent union which has been expelled from the CIO.

The subcommittee recommended legislation to deny certification as a bargaining agent to any Communist controlled union in the railroad industry.

A similar recommendation relat-ing to other unions was made by the Senate group in an earlier re-port on an investigation of the American Communications associa-tion, an independent union which has been expelled from the CIO.

At present the union is certified as bargaining agent for only about 2,200 dining car employees of the Pennsylvania railroad, but Subcommittee Chairman McCar-ran (D-Nev.) said it is carrying on "an intensive membership campaign" in an effort to estab-lish itself on other lines from coast to coast.

Through the union, the senator said in a statement accompanying the report, "The Communist party has established the nucleus of a courier system on the railroads for communication between its underground leaders."

The exact membership of the union was not established in the hearings. Various testimony put the number of its members as be-tween 1,000 and 1,800.

Some Dining Car Union Men Said to Be Active Commies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(P)—The Senate internal security sub-committee said last night that some railroad dining car workers are in the grip of a Communist union and that "it is im-perative that this Communist con-trol be broken."

The subcommittee said the union members could be used by Red party leaders as "a mes-sage channel as effective and more secret than the United States mails."

The subcommittee made public a report to the Senate along with more than 150 pages of testimony taken at private sessions in July, August and September during an inquiry into the Dining Car and Railroad Food Workers union.

The subcommittee said the poli-cies and activities of the small independent union, ever since its organization in 1947, "have been directed from the Communist party headquarters in New York City."

At present the union is certified as bargaining agent for only about 2,200 dining car employees of the Pennsylvania railroad, but Subcommittee Chairman McCar-ran (D-Nev.) said it is carrying on "an intensive membership campaign" in an effort to estab-lish itself on other lines from coast to coast.

Diver Caught Undersea 25 Hours, Saved

He Works Jacks To Rescue Self Near Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—(P)—Trapped almost five hours in icy ocean waters, William Wood directed his own rescue from one of his closest scrapes in years of deep-sea diving.

The 48-year-old Wood worked two ordinary auto jacks to lift iron bars that pinned him to the wreckage of a sunken barge near the Golden Gate.

Search lights were played on the scene, one-fourth mile off Land's End, and scores watched from shore as Wood was lifted aboard his ship, The Salvager, at 7:30 last night.

Although he was rushed unconscious to a decompression chamber for treatment against the bends, Wood was found suffering only from shock and exposure.

He told reporters he had started salvage operations he thought might net him "some money for Christmas" for his wife and two daughters in Santa Barbara, Calif. He was seeking to recover brass and copper from a barge that sank off Land's End years ago.

About 2:30 p.m., the tide pushed iron bars over him and pinned his legs and feet. Wood was wearing full divers' equipment. He was 25 feet below the surface.

After an hour's struggle, he phoned the Salvager crew to send distress signals.

The Coast Guard brought the eight-pound jacks. They were lowered according to instructions from Wood. After hours of careful maneuvering, Wood dislodged the bars, only to be caught by other debris on the way up.

The veteran diver moved that and the crew hauled him up, taking 10 minutes because of the "pressure difference."

"This is one of the closest scrapes I've ever had—No, not the worst," he said afterward, "I came closest to eternity off Africa one time." He did not relate that experience.

This time, he added, "I thought I'd make it back up."

Wood said he has spent several years hunting for sunken ships from which to salvage metal fittings. Last summer he hunted for the wreckage of a Spanish ship which has been at the bottom of the ocean 356 years.

Letter Carriers And Auxiliary Enjoy a Dinner

The Letter Carriers and Auxiliary held their regular meeting Nov. 14 at the American Legion hall.

The meetings were preceded by a contributed supper at 6 o'clock with hosts being Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Faulkner.

The carriers' meeting was presided over by Ernest Holst in the absence of the president, Johnny Heisterberg.

Mrs. Robert Scott, president, presided over the Auxiliary meeting and officers for 1952 were installed.

The remainder of the evening was spent in conversation and cards.

The December meeting will be the Christmas dinner to be held at the Old Missouri Homestead Dec. 12.

Class of '11 Reunion Draws Many to City

Others Write They Cannot Be Present Friday to Sunday

Letters are pouring in from all directions to Mrs. A. L. Pringle, chairman of the three-day class reunion of the class of 1911 of Sedalia high school. Some members of the class will not be able to be here, but have written letters and sent pictures.

Many from out of town have notified Mrs. Pringle that they will come, if not for the entire three days, at least for the reception to be held Saturday night at the old Sedalia high school which is now Central Business college.

Those who were in school at the time the 1911 class was in high school, and other friends of any of the members, are welcome to attend the reception as it will give those from a distance who are here for a short time an opportunity to see old friends they otherwise would not be able to see.

The reunion will start with a banquet Friday night at which will be members of the class of 1911. All who were in the class at any time during the four years of high school are members of the class, whether they graduated or not, and are expected to take part in the reunion activities.

The reunion will close with church services at the Broadway Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

There will be much reminiscing packed into the three days the class members will spend together.

Little Rodney Dies of Cancer Before Santa Arrives Early

ALAMEDA, Calif., Nov. 23.—(P)—Little Rodney Gale did not live to celebrate the premature Christmas and hundreds of well wishers. The three-year-old died of cancer, in his sleep last night.

Rodney had been ill since August. Tuesday his parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeeRoy Gale, made the heartbreaking decision to let their son die as soon as possible, rather than live in pain a few weeks longer.

A doctor told them he might keep Rodney alive two or three months with a special compound. "We decided against it," Mrs. Gale said. "It would only prolong his misery. And he's miserable enough now."

Barring Upset Is Oklahoma's Fourth Crown

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Barring a super upset, it'll be the old familiar story tomorrow in Big Seven football circles.

Oklahoma meets Nebraska's Cornhuskers at Lincoln and the clash is slated to give the Sooners their fourth consecutive championship.

Oklahoma already has clinched at least a tie for the title with Colorado, and fifth-place Nebraska isn't regarded as likely to upset the league powerhouse.

The Cornhuskers got a bit of Thanksgiving cheer yesterday when John Bordogna was back in uniform after being injured last week. He is the key man in Nebraska's spread formation. If he is able to play Saturday the "Huskers" will be able to use both the spread and T formations against Oklahoma.

In the only other game involving a Big Seven team tomorrow, Colorado plays Michigan State at East Lansing.

Nebraska closes its season Nov. 30 against Miami University at Coral Gables.

Missouri and Kansas wind up the Big Seven season Dec. 1 when they meet for their annual battle at Lawrence. Oklahoma plays Oklahoma A. & M. at Norman on that date.

Tigers Smother Windsor, 53-39 In Cage Opener

The Smith-Cotton Tigers opened their 1951-52 basketball season with a surprising display of cage strength Tuesday evening by outclassing the Windsor Greyhounds, 53-39 in a game played in Windsor.

The Greyhounds, who handed the local squad two defeats last season, jumped into an early lead, but were unable to keep pace after the Bengals found the range.

Trailing by one point at the end of the first period, the Tigers grabbed a seven-point, 24-17 lead at half-time. They held the margin at the three-quarter post and closed with a rush for their final bulge.

Little Claude Murphy was the big gun of the local attack with 24 points, followed by rangy Bill Cooper's 13. Leroy Hunt led the Greyhounds with 18.

The contest was rough throughout with 60 fouls being called. Sedalia players were detected in breaking the rules 34 times.

Windsor was co-operative at the free-throw line, however, missing 21 charity tosses. The overanxious 'Hounds also failed repeatedly to hit lay-ups.

The Tigers next game will be played on Dec. 4 at Warrensburg against College High.

Altman Tops Delaney In Mat Main Event

The crowd was not large but it was enthusiastic at the weekly wrestling matches sponsored by Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, Wednesday night. The entire card was thrilling and interesting.

Frank Altman, Seattle, Wash., won two straight falls in the feature event over Pat Hogan Delaney, Chicago, Ill., using the bear hug.

The semi-final was a two-fall event with Neil Warren beating Tex Barker, San Antonio, Tex., who used a body smother for the first and a step-over wrist lock for the second.

The opening event between Gene Reardon, Kansas City and Johnny H. Dial, North Kansas City, went to a 30-minute draw.

Wentworth Gets Title In Win Over Kemper

LEXINGTON, Mo., Nov. 23.—(AP)—Wentworth Military Academy fought a bruising battle here before finally defeating Kemper Military school, 19-0, in the annual Thanksgiving game yesterday.

The victory gave Wentworth the Interstate conference grid championship. It was the 50th game between the two schools.

Valley Downs Calif. Team by 14-7 Score

MARSHALL, Mo., Nov. 23.—(AP)—Missouri Valley College ended its 1951 football season with a 14-7 victory over California Polytechnic here yesterday.

Polytech scored in the second period on a 43-yard pass play.

The Vikings squared matters before halftime and then came back to gain the decision with a third period scoring drive.

Art Davis got the winning touch down from the one-yard line. Dick Oyars kicked the extra point.

The Valley record this season is ten wins, one loss.

Big 10 Title, Rose Bowl Bid at Stake

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 23.—(AP)—Undeclared but once-tied Illinois will tangle with an old-time and tenacious rival, Northwestern, tomorrow with about everything at stake college football has to offer—a league title and bowl trip.

A win or a tie would give the Illini, the nation's sixth ranking team, the Big Ten crown and send them packing for the Rose Bowl. A defeat would make them just an also-ran for the season and set up the honors for Wisconsin or Purdue.

Vols-Kentucky Game Is Big Saturday Tilt

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP)—College football nears the end of a hectic 1951 season tomorrow, with a key New Year's Day bowl atmosphere hovering over the top games on the scattered gridiron.

Tennessee and Kentucky, both already invited to Jan. 1 bowls, clash at Lexington in what looms as the chief attraction of the afternoon.

Tennessee, the nation's No. 1 team until proven otherwise, already is in the Sugar Bowl against Maryland. Kentucky, beaten three times but improving each week, has accepted a Cotton Bowl berth.

Tennessee, which upset Kentucky last year, is a seven-point choice over the Wildcats, the nation's No. 9 club.

But from the Big Ten, the southwest and the Pacific coast sectors, bowl and would-be bowl-ers tangle in important struggles.

Three Big Ten teams still with a chance for the Rose Bowl share mid-west attention. Illinois, with the inside track, can clinch it with victory or even a tie against Northwestern at Evanston, Ill.

Purdue meets Indiana, and Wisconsin, the No. 8 team this week, plays Minnesota.

Stanford, unbeaten in nine games and certain to be the host Pacific coast team in the Rose Bowl, meets California in the far west's stellar attraction at Palo Alto. Stanford rules a 6½ point choice. The Indians are the No. 3 team in the land.

In the southwest, four teams remain in the running for the conference flag and a crack at Kentucky in the Cotton Bowl. They are Rice, Texas Christian, Baylor and Texas.

Rice and Texas Christian, tied for the lead, play in the big one at Fort Worth with T.C.U. favored by a touchdown. At Waco, Baylor meets dangerous Southern Methodist. Baylor is a seven-point favorite. Texas and Texas A. & M. rest until they meet Thursday, Nov. 29. It may go down to Dec. 1, when Rice plays Baylor, No. 10 and T.C.U. meets Southern Methodist.

Others in the top 10 this week appear to have fairly easy sailing. Michigan State, the No. 2 outfit, meets Colorado at East Lansing to close out its season. Maryland takes on West Virginia at College Park, but should have little trouble defending its No. 4 rating. Princeton, No. 5, winds up against Dartmouth at Princeton. The No. 7 team, Georgia Tech, plays Davidson in Atlanta. Georgia Tech already has accepted the Orange Bowl bid, against an undecided opponent.

Cage Tournament At Warrensburg Opens Nov. 27th

The Central Missouri State college Mules will play host to 16 high schools throughout the central Missouri region for an invitational basketball tourney in Warrensburg's Morrow gymnasium, beginning Nov. 27 and ending Dec. 1.

The schools will be divided into two separate groups for trophy awards, those with football curriculum and those without. First place, second place, and consolation trophies will be awarded in both divisions.

In the Green division, concerning football schools, competitors are: Glennon of Kansas City, Adrian, Windsor, Odessa, Clinton, Holden, Wentworth Military Academy and Warrensburg public high.

Entries in the White, or non-football division, are: Deepwater, Lincoln, Adrain, Calhoun, Knob Noster, Leeton, La Monte, Concordia, and Central Missouri state high.

Drake May Break-off Relations With A&M

DES MOINES, Nov. 23.—(AP)—The Des Moines Tribune reported yesterday "There was every indication that Drake university was on the verge of breaking athletic relations with Oklahoma A. & M. over the Johnny Bright incident, but nobody in authority would say so."

The incident concerns the broken jaw Bright suffered in a game at Oklahoma A. & M. on Oct. 20. Drake has said that Bright, its Negro halfback, was slugged deliberately by Wilbanks Smith, Aggie tackle.

Schroeder and Trabert Fail to Win In Doubles

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert failed today to win the doubles title of the New South Wales tennis championships, as Australia's top duo of Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor staged an uphill battle to beat the Americans.

Sedgman and McGregor walked off the court victorious, 6-8, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 10-8, after a grueling five-set match that lasted two hours and 15 minutes.

Manager of Year This Season, Now Blind, Will Write Books

SCARSDALE, N. Y., Nov. 23.—(AP)—At 52, George (Specs) Toporcer is starting on a new career. That's nothing new for a man in his fifties. But it is in the case of Toporcer. George, you see, is blind.

Toporcer spent his first sightless Thanksgiving day yesterday. He had lost his eyesight only 24 hours before, following three unsuccessful operations and 10 harrowing weeks in a hospital.

Until then, Toporcer had been a highly successful minor league manager. Before that he had been a star major league ball player, then an efficient farm director of two big league clubs. Just this past season, George had been voted "manager of the year" in the International league for his fine work with the Buffalo club.

An unfortunate tragedy? Sure. But George has accepted it as much spirit and courage as when he took the jibes and taunts that greeted him when he broke into professional baseball, to become the first bespectacled infielder in the major leagues.

Toporcer is far from dispirited. He is wasting no time making use of his vast baseball experience and background to launch into a new career—a new life. And he is looking forward to it with as much zest and eagerness as he exhibited when he crashed into the St. Louis Cardinals' lineup in 1921 to play alongside the great Roger Hornsby.

"I've always intended some day to write several books on baseball," Toporcer said today. "I'll just have to start a little sooner than I expected. I've spent 32 wonderful years in baseball and I believe I can turn out some very interesting books dealing with the playing, administrative, technical and the teaching end of it. I also want to write boys' fictional books using baseball as a background. I've always been interested in youngsters and I think I can do some good in that line."

Toporcer is not asking for sympathy. He is cheerful and optimistic. His loss of sight did not come as a complete surprise to him. He became resigned to his fate about seven weeks ago after his second operation when the detached retina of the right eye failed to grow back into place. He had lost sight of his left eye three and a half years ago.

Lou Little Hopes For More Liberal Free-Subbing Rule

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Columbia's Lou Little says if the football rules makers start tampering with the free substitution rule he hopes they liberalize rather than restrict it.

"Maybe we should do just as the pros do—have no limitation on substitutions whatever," the chairman of the coaches' rules committee declared today.

"I don't think we would be promoting the interests of football by abandoning the two-plateau system."

The bespectacled Columbia coach is one of the stoutest champions of two-plateau football, now under fire of college groups seeking to de-emphasize the sport.

"What's the main objection to our present free substitution rule?" he asked rhetorically. "It's that it sets up specialized defensive and offensive squads, requires more players and larger coaching staffs and separates the 'have' schools from the 'have nots'."

"I fail to see it. I think it's possible to have two-plateau football with a squad of 33 players, which is about the size of the old fashioned rosters."

"You could have one offensive team, one defensive team and another 11 players who might be used interchangeably."

This especially might work well if we had unrestricted substitution such as the pros have."

The professionals can change players—11, five or three, whenever they wish at a time—any time the ball is dead. They can shoot fresh talent in and out on each play, so long as the shift is made in 30 seconds.

The colleges' present free substitution rule, which gave birth to the controversial two-plateau football, is not nearly so free as that.

In college games, substitutions can be made only when the clock is stopped.

Substitutions are not permitted after each play, as in the case of the pros, as long as the game officially is in progress.

The free substitution rule is included in the 12 points presented by the Pacific Coast conference for consideration of the NCAA in its study of the conduct of athletics.

Mexicans, Feet Sore, Want to Go Back to Homeland

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 23.—(AP)—A group of Mexican plantation workers, who said they left their jobs because of bad food and meager pay, were ready today to return to their native land of lazy sunshine and hot tamales.

The cotton pickers were bedded down here last night after long hikes along Arkansas and Tennessee highways that left them footsore and frightened.

Forty-nine limped into Memphis after a 100-mile hike from the Terry Jamison Plantation. Twelve others showed up from Keiser, Ark., 60 miles distant.

Fifty-one of their fellow workers were still on the road between Memphis and Tiptonville in northwest Tennessee.

The feet of most were badly blistered. Before they were fed and housed for the night, they spoke bitterly of bad food and pay and "bad living and pay."

Angel Cano, the Mexican consul here, listened to their plaint and said arrangements would be made to send them back to Mexico.

The first phonograph company was the Edison Speaking Phonograph Co., formed April 24, 1878.

Sift Ashes, Look For Jewels Flung Away By Owner

YONKERS, N. Y., Nov. 23.—(AP)—Police start sifting incinerator ashes today for $18,000 worth of jewelry which a somewhat forgetful woman put in an old shoe and tossed in a trash can.

Mrs. Edward Madden, wife of a New York printing ink company executive, yesterday reported the loss of the gems—a $9,000 diamond bracelet, a $5,000 diamond and platinum ring and two $2,000 unmounted diamonds.

Mrs. Madden told police she took the jewelry from a safe deposit box to have it appraised. Then she put the gems in an old shoe in a closet.

During housecleaning several days later, the shoe was tossed into rubbish that was hauled to the city incinerator.

Holiday Death Toll of 120 in US Lowest Since '48

By The Associated Press
The nation's accidental death toll over the Thanksgiving holiday was the lowest since 1948 and far below last year's record 201.

Traffic accidents, as usual during a holiday period, took the heaviest toll.

A survey showed that since 6 p.m. Wednesday until midnight Thursday (local time) 90 persons lost their lives in motor mishaps. Another 30 persons were killed in miscellaneous accidents.

The total is 120 compared with last year's record 201 violent deaths and the previous high for

Kitten in the Woods

By Kathleen Briggs

XXI
OLLIE Lee and Lucia did not return from Burlington until late evening. By that time Elizabeth had almost forgotten about Aaron Riggs in the library. Apparently he had grown tired of waiting for when she went down to prepare Mrs. Steinhardt's tray he had gone. After making sandwiches and chocolate for herself and Alistair, and taking her upstairs, she had sat around reading, waiting for the sound of Ollie's car on the gravel below.

When it did arrive, Lucia emerged with her arms full of packages from the shops in Burlington. Both Lee and Ollie looked red and exasperated. Obviously, they too had done their share of waiting. The light burned late in Lucia's room as she tried on her new purchases but the others went early to bed.

At 7 the next morning Elizabeth decided she could safely rise and dress without waking her patient. Her toes had barely touched the floor when a timid knock sounded on her door. Mrs. Murphy stood outside her red-knuckled hands twisting together nervously. Elizabeth saw at once that she had been crying and that her lips still trembled.

"Oh Miss, I have terrible news for you!"
"Surely it can't be so bad?" Elizabeth tried to make her tone light but her heart was turning over.

"Ah, but it is. The poor mite of a thing. I found him stiff and stark this mornin' when I came to work."
"The kitten?"
"Who else? Stretched out in death an' not a mark on him!"

The scene with Alistair returned in each vivid detail. Mrs. Murphy was crying her heart out.
"Even a cat doesn't deserve that sort of death. What did you feed him yesterday, Mrs. Murphy?"
Interpreting her wrongly, the cook drew her self up haughtily.
"The usual. Surely you're not after blamin' me now?"
"Certainly not, but it must have been poison. Don't you see?" Mrs. Murphy's face went slightly pink.

"Not from my kitchen."
THAT afternoon Elizabeth met Bill outside the main gate, a shoe box with the kitten in it held tightly under one arm. He beamed when he saw her, a smile that quickly faded as he noted her expression.
"Why couldn't I meet you inside? Ashamed of my company?"
"Just caution."
"Too late for caution, my girl. Should have thought of that before you took a job in that Frankensteinian castle. What's that under your arm, a headless corpse?"
"You don't know how unfunny you are. It's the kitten's corpse."
"What?"
"I'm terribly sorry, Bill."
"Well, I'm a silly fool, Beth. Maybe I shouldn't have wished it on you, perhaps it was too young to leave Madame X."

"Bill, I'm almost certain it has been poisoned. You were sweet to come for me without question when I phoned."
"Had to go into town anyway," said gruffly.
She repeated what Mrs. Murphy had said about Ollie's intense dislike of cats and Alistair's threat to tell about the kitten. When she finished, Bill's jaw was white with tension. He jarred them both as he slammed on the brakes before Dr. Appleby's house.
"Nice atmosphere you're living in, isn't it? Why don't you show a little sense and get out? A murderer on the loose, a fiend who stoops low enough to poison cats!"
"Bill, I can't leave Mrs. Steinhardt. She's a fine old lady..."
"Sure, she's a fine old lady. I liked her too. But she's dying; she's lived her life and cyanide in her coffee isn't going to make a lot of difference, one way or the other. But you're only 23!"
"Bill!"
He reached out and took her hand. "Pretti cold-blooded, aren't I? Can't you see why I'm worried about you?"
"Bill please!" She withdrew her hand.
"Okay this isn't the proper time or place for romance is it? And everything has to be in its proper time and place."
"I didn't mean that exactly."

BUT he had withdrawn into his shell like an annoyed hermit crab. He got out, came around to her door took the box with the dead kitten in one hand and her elbow in the other. "Let's find out the worst."
Dr. Appleby's usually jovial face became severe when Bill told him what they wanted. The young surveyor didn't mention the fact that the kitten came from Black Fir but they knew he suspected. He took the box without comment and left them to perform the autopsy. Bill waited until the door closed then phoned the Avondale Pharmacy. After a low-voiced conversation with the proprietor he turned to Elizabeth.
"Ollie is the only person who has purchased cyanide within the last three months. He bought a small package for his bug catching."

Elizabeth sighed wearily. "I know he's a strange person, Bill, but I just can't believe he'd kill a defenseless kitten."
"It's all in the point of view. Black Fir is his home—the cat didn't belong there. If he felt it would harm his collection, he probably thought it had a right to remove it from the scene."
"Legally, I suppose he does."
"The point is when will he feel that something more human than a cat is interfering with his life." She stared at him aghast. "Oh Bill, he couldn't!"
The door to the autopsy room opened. Dr. Appleby stood in the entrance polishing his glasses, avoiding their questioning eyes.
"There isn't any doubt. All the tests were positive. It was cyanide."

XXII
OLLIE spent the following morning in some horticultural pursuits in the strange tropical world he had single-handedly created. Elizabeth was grateful for that. Knowing that cyanide was responsible for the kitten's death had lowered an invisible curtain between Ollie and herself. She would not be able to face him normally for days to come.

Yet she could be mistaken, Bill had pointed out grudgingly. The cyanide could have been purchased in Burlington. It could have been stolen from Ollie's supply. Everyone knew he used it for killing the moths for his collection.
Elizabeth sighed and watched the steady relentless rain. She did not look forward to going out in it but she would have to. Dr. Appleby had forgotten to bring out medicine and the Avondale Pharmacy did not make deliveries. There was nothing to do but hike into town. Ollie's limousine had developed mysterious internal ailments that were beyond his curative powers. In any case she could not have brought herself to ask him to drive her.

She donned slicker and rubbers and went downstairs.
Aaron Riggs' black sedan stood under the porte cochere. He emerged from the conservatory alone, mopping his face. When he saw Elizabeth he thrust his handkerchief in his breast pocket almost guiltily. He summoned up one of his glacial smiles.
"I suppose those plants require a lot of moisture but it's really suffocating. Most unhealthy!"
He stepped into his balmacan and stood on the steps taking in great breaths of air. Suddenly he noticed her raincoat.
"Going in to town?"
"I was hoping you'd offer me a ride."

She explained about the medicine and he opened the car door with a sort of stilted flourish. "It would be a pleasure, my dear." Aaron Riggs drove with maddening conservatism. Elizabeth was sure she could have walked faster. It almost seemed deliberate. "I worry a great deal about Ollie and Emily. Mostly Emily."
"She certainly isn't well," Elizabeth agreed.
"I wasn't referring to her state of health."
"No?"
"No. I mean Ollie." His voice took on a confiding tone. "For her to be left alone with Ollie so much. He's far from normal. As a nurse you've surely observed that?"

HARPING on the same old theme, she thought. What was behind his constant disparaging references to Ollie's mentality?
"But is there such a thing as a perfectly normal person?"
Riggs laughed. "Now don't be literal, my dear. Of course I've heard that there's only a hairline difference between the sane and insane. But Ollie strays further from the mean than most of us."
"Isn't it just that he's absorbed in his hobbies?"
"No. He's absent-minded to a dangerous point. Ollie has done things and completely forgotten them later! There's no accounting for his actions. He's so lost in his cloud-cuckoo land that a vital act could be immediately forgotten by him while the discovery of a new species of moth or tropical plant would assume a world-shattering importance in his mind!"
They were rumbling over the old wooden bridge. For a second the sound of loose planking and swift-running water dulled the effect of his words. But when the car rolled onto the tarmac, their full significance hit her. She shivered slightly. Could Ollie really be such a schizophrenic personality that he would murder and dismiss it from his mind?

"You seem chilled, my dear."
"It's just the dampness."
"You understand about Ollie?"
She sighed, anxious to put an end to the subject. "I suppose psychiatrists have a name for him."
He smiled. "I see you grasp my meaning. Just a word of caution, my dear—perhaps unnecessary—"

Eisenhower Hedges in Chat With Congressmen

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—Exuberant George Bender, the Ohio congressman, popped the question to General Eisenhower during a two and one-half hour relaxed chat with the general in Paris. Bender, a rootin'-tootin' Taft supporter, looked like in the eye and said with a grin: "General, is you or ain't you, and how?"
General Eisenhower's eyes twinkled but he made no direct reply. Instead he emphasized to Bender and three other visiting congressmen the great importance of his job in Europe. It was vital to the safety of mankind to rearm Europe, the general said, no matter what individual sacrifices were involved.
Young Dick Bolling, the clean-cut Kansas City Democrat, suggested in half-humorous vein: "General, if you do run for President, I am sure you will be much happier on the Democratic ticket."

Eisenhower did not answer that one either, but Rep. Leon Gavin, Pennsylvania Republican, did, and in no uncertain terms.
"The Republican party is the only party of free enterprise," he said loudly and firmly. "The Democrats are all Socialists and you would not get along with them."

At another point in the conversation, Congressman Bender asked like: "What about that Arthur Krock story in the New York Times saying you and President Truman talked politics?"
This was the only time during the visit that the general appeared upset or irritated. "There was not a word of truth to the story," he said indignantly and with great firmness. He added that he could not understand why a reputable newspaper would fall for "such a phony."
Note — Flying to Key West the other day, President Truman sat down in the compartment of the presidential plane where his staff was working and point by point went over his luncheon conversation with General Eisenhower. He repeated that at no time had they discussed politics.

Two Presidents
Here is the inside story as to why President Truman coldly brushed aside French President Auriol's proposal for a new Big Four meeting.

Mr. Truman flatly turned down Auriol's idea after receiving an urgent cable from Secretary of State Acheson in Paris, stating that President Auriol had made the Big Four proposal without the approval of French Foreign Minister Schuman or of the French cabinet.
Furthermore, President Auriol, according to Acheson's cable, had tersely refused to eliminate the Big Four meeting idea from his speech even though U. S. Ambassador Jessup pleaded with him that the Russians would interpret it as a sign of weakness. Acheson therefore advised the President to rebuff the entire proposal, which was done.

Defective Tank Turrets
Last month the army refused to accept a single medium (M-47) tank from its own Detroit arsenal. The arsenal produced more than a hundred of the new tanks but the army was so strict with its own arsenal that not a single one passed inspection. In each case the army complained that the turrets on the tanks failed to meet specifications. Requirements for the tank demand that the tank cannot be able to swing onto a target within six seconds — and remain on the target automatically while the tank continues to move in any direction.

While the rejected tanks could do this complex mechanical job, it took most of them nine or ten seconds instead of the required six.

Specialists from all over the country are now being called in to try to perfect the tank's traversing gear to meet army demands. Meanwhile, the Detroit arsenal will continue to turn out the faulty tanks on the practical theory that modifications can be made later when the vital three-second problem is licked.
Note — Our new light tank, the M-41, is having the same trouble with its turret mechanism.
Washington Pipeline
Price Boss Mike Di Salle will soon announce higher ceiling prices for practically all clothing. The new prices, however, won't mean a further squeeze on family already suffering below present ceiling prices. Manufacturers are more interested in a "floor" under prices than a ceiling on top of prices. . . . Newsman have nicknamed Arval Erikson, head of the OPS meat pricing section, "meat head." . . . During the recent cold wave price enforcement boss Ed Morgan bought a thermometer. He found that the temperature in his private office was down to 39 degrees. Remarked a friend: "That's how some senators feel about price controls." . . . Latest A-bomb explosion near Las Vegas will not cost the government so much money in broken windows. Last January the government paid $17,000 for new plaster and broken glass. Now the damage will be less than $10,000.

Worse Than Berlin
American pilots have been running into worse flak over the tiny Korean village of Sananju than they encountered over Berlin during World War II.
Reason for the intense anti-aircraft fire is that the Communists are trying to build three air strips near Sananju. If these are completed, the Communists will move their MIG-15 fighters across the Yalu river for the first time in the entire Korean war and thus be closer to the front. In fact, this will put them in a position to hammer our front lines, whereas hitherto they have only fought defensively.

No Bargaining
Jovial, tough-skinned Mike Di Salle, the government's price warden, has learned that you can't satisfy all manufacturers even part of the time.
Di Salle's aides were discussing price controls on stoves and ranges at a meeting with industry spokesmen who kept demanding that prices be fixed by the "historic markup" formula. In other words, they wanted the traditional profit allowance above present production costs, while the OPS

Mease lock your door at night. You're much too young and charming to have anything happen to you."
SHE turned to stare at him and saw an expression in his eyes. Not an expression that she had ever expected to see in the eyes of Aaron Riggs, pillar of social conventionality.
He was smiling fatuously. And his eyes, which had always seemed flint-rock hard and speculative, now seemed to burn with an inner depravity.
He reached over and took her hand. He pressed it and his own was hot and moist and powerful.
"You are cold, my dear. Now I have a delightful library in my home and a log fire just waiting for a match. I suggest you have tea with me before setting out upon your errand."
He had been concentrating on her; the car had wandered. Elizabeth emitted a soft gasp of fear and he spun the wheel in time to avoid a tall pine which bordered the road. It gave her a chance to thrust her hands firmly in her pockets.
"I'm sorry but I have to take some medicine back to Mrs. Steinhardt."
"Then let me drive you back to Black Fir."
The road was a lonely one in this weather and she suspected that Aaron Riggs could be an ugly character when thwarted.
"I've arranged to drive back with Dr. Appleby."
She left him in front of the pharmacy. He looked thoughtful. In a minute he'd know she was lying. If Dr. Appleby had been calling at Black Fir he could have brought the filled prescription. And Dr. Appleby, as everyone must know, was attending a state medical convention in Burlington this week. (To Be Continued)

Wife of Soldier Dies Not Knowing She Was Mother

CENTRALIA, Ill., Nov. 23—(AP)—The young wife of an army private and her six-day old son, whose birth she did not know about, died three hours apart yesterday.

Mrs. Alice Rose Fry, 20, who gave birth prematurely by caesarean section to Thomas Harley Fry last Saturday, died of a brain tumor. Three hours earlier, the infant, who weighed 4 pounds, 9 ounces, died in the incubator.

chiefs argued for pre-Korean price levels.
However, one stove manufacturer was in no mood for bargaining. "Pre-Korean" he exploded. "I'm tired of all this gobbledook. What you government guys want is an antediluvian price level."

STOVER

54th Wedding Anniversary Of J.B. Ehlers

By Mrs. F. J. Kraxberger

STOVER — The 54th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ehler was celebrated at their country home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Eckhoff, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Weymuth and son, Ricky, and Mrs. Hulda Weymuth of Cole Camp were present for the occasion.

Dr. William F. Huffman suffered a heart attack at his office Wednesday a. m. He is convalescing at his home under the care of Dr. T. P. Wescott.

Mrs. W. S. Boltz of Ionia, accompanied by Mrs. Emmett Boltz and friend, visited friends here on Wednesday. Mrs. Boltz, a former resident of Stover, will spend the winter in Texas with a relative. A very successful revival at the Baptist church closed Sunday, Nov. 18th, with one addition by baptism and a large revived membership. The Rev. Busby and the Rev. William Morgan assisted the local pastor, the Rev. R. F. Williams.

The Home Economics club met at the home of Mrs. H. C. Albers Friday evening. Assistant hostess was Mrs. Anton Ehlers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cook of Smithton were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Kraxberger Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Amelia Warnke was a dinner guest in the Kraxberger home.

Walter Holsten has been quite ill for the past three weeks. He is unable to do any farm labor.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kraxberger and her father, Mr. Imen, went to La Cygne, Kas., Sunday. Mr. Imen will spend the winter there after staying several months here and near Versailles with another daughter.

Mrs. Anna Gerit has been seriously ill.

Mrs. Beulah Fry was called to Paola, Kas., last week to help care for Mrs. Charles Fry who was brought home from the hospital in Kansas City after undergoing a major operation. Her condition is satisfactory.

The Lions club entertained Monday evening with family night. The losers of an attendance contest entertained the winners with a turkey dinner and a line party to the Osage theatre.

Kerry Cole, son of Mrs. Roma Cole Duffer, was taken to the Wetzel hospital at Clinton Thursday evening. He was operated on for appendicitis and will be home soon. Saturday, Kerry celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary and was visited Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Junior Duffer, Mrs. C. E. Ausman, Mrs. Floyd Duffer and his little sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fry were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rehmer of near Florence Sunday. Mrs. Rehmer is recovering slowly from an illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kraxberger, Mrs. Nona Argenbright and Mrs. H. L. Small were business visitors in Kansas City Friday. Mrs. Small remained at the bedside of her father H. R. Welpman, who is critically ill in the St. Luke's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Holcomb of Spring Hill, Kas., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Winner several days last week.

The Rev. and Mrs. Roy F. Williams and the Rev. Busby visited Mrs. Harris in Sedalia on Friday and the Rev. Williams' parents in Ottumwa.

Mrs. Oscar E. Parker was unable to attend the funeral of her sister Miss Lena Mehrtnes, Kansas City, due to the illness of Mr. Parker. The funeral was held Monday, Nov. 19.

Mrs. Gene Williams and son, Jimmy, returned last week from a month's visit in Seattle, Wash. They were guests of Mrs. Fredrick Bennett and family, Mrs. Edward Schultz and family and Cornelius Tambke. Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Schultz are the former Angeline and Margaret Tambke.

Red MIG Threatens US Might

Vandenberg States Enemy Jet Changes Air-Power Outlook

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(P)—The chief of the United States Air Force spelled out today the "sobering lesson" of swiftly expanding Soviet air power as revealed in Korea, where American control of the air is being "seriously challenged" by Russian-made planes flown by Russian-speaking pilots.

In a remarkably detailed and frank news conference based on his recent visit to Korea, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg read a 4,000-word formal statement and answered a barrage of questions. Of the air situation there, he said there had been a significant and "even sinister change." He cited these points:

1. The Chinese Communist Air Force has deployed in North China and Manchuria about 1,500 planes, approximately one-half of which are MIG-15 jet fighters. The MIG "in many respects can outperform our own F-86"; it has out-climbed the best airplanes that have been tested against it and performed in combat at altitudes approaching 50,000 feet.

2. The MIG can fly "at speeds in excess of the speed of sound" 761 miles per hour at sea level. "Thus it is apparent the Soviets already have large numbers of military aircraft capable of supersonic flight."

3. "Overnight China has become one of the major air powers of the world." Vandenberg explained that while Red China lacks industrial and technical resources, she is the "direct beneficiary of another power" which possess those resources. He was referring to Russia.

4. The Communists are trying to push their airfield building program southward toward the place where the ground armies are locked in battle. By continuous bombing effort, the USAF has managed to keep three new enemy fields of this type inoperational.

5. While the U. N. Air Force at present still retains superiority over the Communist Air Force, its activities are limited by the "ground rules." It can not get at the takeoff points of enemy fighters, destroy them in great numbers and gain actual air "supremacy" (which means the enemy becomes incapable of effective interference).

Vandenberg, obviously referring to the ban on U. N. attacks on Red air bases across the Yalu river in Manchuria, spoke of the unusual and indeed unique limitation governing the scope of the air war. He said that "under the ground rules established at the outset of the Korean war, it is impossible for us to gain air supremacy."

This brought up two questions: Has the Air Force made a new effort to get permission to bomb the Manchurian bases? Does it want to use atomic bombs in the Korean war?

To the first question, Vandenberg said "the crossing of the Yalu river is a political decision that must be taken by the United States with its United Nations Allies."

To the second, he said that "any decision to use atomic bombs is a governmental decision with which I have nothing to do." To another question, he said there are no suitable targets in North Korea for atomic bombs. Moreover, he explained, conventional explosive bombs are better for ripping up air fields than the massive, broad blast of an atomic explosion.

Vandenberg thought the sudden expansion of enemy air power in Korea signified a tardy recognition of "the terrible disadvantage" the Communists had been operating under. He said the rapid build-up in enemy air strength represents "a massive effort on his part to overcome our air superiority," lift the pressure of U. N. attack on Communist forces and reduce the overall fire power of U. N. forces in Korea.

Progressives To Hold Conference In Chicago

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—(P)—Progressive party said today it will hold a midwest conference in Chicago Nov. 24 and 25 to put the issues of peace and foreign policy into the 1952 campaign.

C. B. Baldwin, party secretary, said in announcing the meeting that the only way these issues can be raised "is through an independent peace candidacy or a Progressive party candidacy."

The party already has announced it will have a candidate, Baldwin did not elaborate on the purpose of the Chicago meeting.

Former Vice President Henry A. Wallace was the party's presidential candidate in 1948, but has since renounced it for opposing the American stand in Korea.

Baldwin said the Chicago meeting at the Midland hotel will bring in delegates from Illinois, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin, Missouri, Ohio and Michigan.

Turkeys Provide Fine Food, But They're Strange Birds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(P)—Bet you didn't know turkeys are terrible-tempered when they're in love.

Or that they don't know enough to come in out of the rain.

Or, for that matter, that the word "turkey" may have come to us from a Hebrew word meaning "peacock."

I didn't know these things, either, until I approached the Department of Agriculture for some Thanksgiving-type information. Then one word led to another and I reeled out with all sorts of turkey lore which you're welcome to borrow for table talk tomorrow.

For instance: the bird you're likely to be devouring belongs to the largest crop in history. This country is growing 52,800,000 turkeys this year, compared with 45,700,000 in 1950.

Birds Hard To Raise

This is no mean tribute to the American turkey farmer, for the big birds are infernally hard to raise. They get all sorts of ailments—chicken pox (honest), blackhead, limberneck and myositis of the crop, among them. They are subject to nasty head colds and have never heard of anti-histamines.

Young turks, called poults, are especially delicate. Some growers go so far as to wipe their feet when they get wet. This happens pretty often, too, for turkeys young and old are not very long on their feet. They huddle together, or just stand there looking foolish, instead of taking shelter in a storm.

Male turkeys are determined, quarrelsome lovers. There's no living with one of them when another has the inside track with the hen he covets. The females go into deep seclusion when setting. It's a man-sized job to pry one loose from her nest.

Our ancestors shot their own turkeys, the wild variety, for Thanksgiving, or sometimes stole them from the Indians' turkey traps. The modern turkey is descended from a Mexican variety which was sent back to Europe by explorers in the 16th century.

They Didn't Come From Turkey

Why is a turkey called a turkey? There are all sorts of explanations. The Encyclopedia Britannica says it's because of a mistaken belief they came from Turkey. The office dictionary says the name was first applied to the guinea cock, which did come from Turkey.

A more ingenious explanation, though, comes from a writer who signed himself E. Richardson in 1897. He says the turkey was regarded as a peacock by the Spaniards who discovered it in Mexico, and that the Jewish merchants who retailed the new birds in Spain called it by the Hebrew word for peacock, "tukki."

If you find out who invented dressing, let me know, will you? He ought to have a monument.

Man Burns To Death In 2-Truck Accident Outside Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21—(P)—A Kansas City man was burned to death this afternoon when his truck caught fire after colliding with another truck at the intersection of U. S. highway 40 and Blue Ridge cutoff in Jackson county.

The victim was Elvin Hampton, 20, a driver of an asphalt truck for Spot Martin, Inc., a contractor for hauling and excavation work. Hampton's truck collided with a two-ton truck driven by Daniel Profert, 49, of Kansas City.

After the crash, Hampton's truck overturned and caught fire, pinning Hampton inside, a deputy sheriff said.

Sausage Price To Increase

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(P)—Sausage-makers got a go-ahead from the government today to raise prices of hot dogs, bologna and pork sausage.

In some cases the increase will be 3½ to 4 cents a pound. They go into effect next Monday and may be passed along to housewives.

The Office of Price Stabilization said the increases are being allowed to reflect (1) higher wholesale prices of beef used in making sausage, and (2) higher prices for sheep casings in which some sausages are packed.

OPS found its proposal to roll back ceilings for tallow and grease had stirred up a hornet's nest among members of that industry's advisory committee.

Seven members, half of the 14-man group, quit with charges that "political interests" are behind the demonstration.

Presentation of the 50-year pins was made by the Rev. Glen Lindley, who presented two of the pins at the joint meeting of the two lodges. At the meeting W. O. Stanley and Irvine Reay received their pins while the presentation of the other was made to W. W. Blain at the Bothwell hospital where he has been confined for the past several weeks.

During the joint meeting one candidate received the third degree conferred by past masters chosen from both lodges, and it was given in full dress and ancient form.

Demonstration Of Glow Candle For Girl Scouts

Something new in handicraft was demonstrated Tuesday afternoon at the Girl Scout office by Mrs. Mary Houston. It was the glow candle.

This candle is of a special kind of wax and made in a mold. Some of the wax is then melted and beated with an egg beater until it becomes frosted, then it is used to frost the outside of the candle. Sometimes crayola is put in to give color. The candle, when lighted, glows from inside.

The candles will be used for Christmas decorations.

A good crowd attended the demonstration.

The demonstration was given at 1:30 and at 2:30 a special instruction class on Girl Scout ceremonies was held, at which new leaders were instructed on ceremonies for presenting pins to Brownies and Intermediate Girl Scouts for attendance.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. A. Bertie Means, Mrs. A. T. Bradley, corresponding secretary of the sixth district Democratic Women's club, and Mrs. Effa Chism, all of Windsor, and Miss Eva Jane Lewis of Washington, D. C. The meeting was attended by 50 members and guests.

The December meeting will be a Christmas party and gift exchange.

and Catherine Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gibson.

Speaker Urges Building Men Thru Scouts

Lowell Johnson Speaks at Annual Council Meet Wed.

Lowell Johnson, president of the Kansas City Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, was the guest speaker at the annual council meeting of the Lake of the Ozarks council, Boy Scouts of America, held Wednesday night on the campus of Missouri Valley college in Marshall.

During his address, Mr. Johnson asked when we were going to stop creating boys for war and begin developing men for peace?

He said that our fathers have entered into wars for peace, and we have entered into wars for peace, but we have still failed to win that peace.

However, we still have a "second chance" through the new generation, as parents and as interested citizens in the community.

During the growth of a boy, he enters into three stages. First, with his mother he learns a kindness that only a mother can teach him. If he doesn't learn it from her, he will never learn it.

As a boy grows, and tries out his "dukes," he enters a father-son relationship on fishing trips or with hammer and nails about the home. Here again, only "dad" can help.

Lastly, as the boy grows into young manhood and his horizons broaden, he wants a "man to man" relationship with other men in the community.

Here, Mr. Johnson pointed out, is where we get our "second chance" to aid in the development of this boy, in Scouting, meeting him where he is, and creating a fine citizen. This only we can do . . . not mother or father, but we as active Scouters interested in your boy.

Whitton Re-elected
During this meeting, John Waldorf of Marshall submitted the report of the nominating committee, and it was fully accepted. Rex Whitton, chief engineer of the state highway department, was re-elected president for the coming year. Other officers elected were: Z. Lyle Brown, Sedalia, vice-president; William Tweedie Jefferson City, vice-president; Charles Buckner, Marshall, vice-president; Wilkie Cunningham, Jefferson City, treasurer; and J. Harold Seaberg, commissioner, Sedalia.

Executive board members elected from Sedalia included: Dr. Lawrence Geiger, William Hurlbut, Oscar DeWolf, Julius Stohr and Ole Wiley. Cline Cain was re-elected as a member of the advisory committee.

Awards Given
Recognition was given Cline Cain for his service to scouting for 25 years.

Silver Beaver awards given for outstanding service to scouting and the youth of the nation were given by Charles Gillespie to Henry Rohlfing, Herman and William Tweedie, Jefferson City.

Those in attendance from Sedalia and Pettis district were: Mr. and Mrs. Abe Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. Cline Cain, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lambirth, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Geiger, Mr. and Mrs. Z. Lyle Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Stohr, Ole Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar DeWolf, Mr. and Mrs. Atwell Bohling, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seaberg, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rohlfing, Kenneth Farley, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wade and James Langridge.

Wheat Prices
Record Gains; Others Falter

CHICAGO, Nov. 21—(P)—Wheat found some bullish inspiration in the run of news today, but nothing else did. The bread cereal ended with gains averaging around a cent after having been up nearly 3 cents at the opening.

Feed grains were quite weak, although ending above their lows for the day. The November soybean and lard contracts showed flashes of strength on belated short-covering. Trading in these deliveries ended today. Deferred bean and lard contracts got nowhere.

Wheat closed ½-1½ higher, corn ½-1¼ lower, oats ½-7/8 lower, rye (new style) unchanged to 1 cent lower; soybeans 1 1/4 lower to 1 1/4 higher and lard 25 cents lower to 30 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Wheat shot up sharply at the opening in an active trade, several different groups bidding for the grains. This included mills, export houses and a few large local traders.

The local traders based their buying on news the government had granted a 10-cent boost in the maximum price of wheat sold to international wheat agreement countries. This boost compares with a 4 cent increase at this time last year.

Many traders felt this would enable export houses to pay as much as 10 cents more for wheat. On this belief, they bought. Not everyone shared the opinion that the move was bullish. Some argued the already dollar-short foreign countries wouldn't be happy with parting with more precious dollars to get wheat in this country.

Smith Tax Plan Flies Out-The-Window

Appropriations Will Eat-Up State Revenue, End Surplus

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 21—(P)—Appropriations for the current two-year fiscal period, passed or pending, would eat up all of Missouri's expected general revenue and most of the surplus that has been piled up in recent years.

That would put a damper on Gov. Forrest Smith's plan to use surplus money to cut the state income tax.

Figures compiled by W. B. McGregor, assistant budget director, showed tonight:

A pending catch-all appropriation bill, approved by a House committee earlier today, totaled $32,372,802.

Bills already passed by the legislature totaled a record $610,092,000 for the two year period ending June 30, 1953.

The appropriations out of general revenue would just about equal the estimated collections of $153,000,000 for the two years.

These Bills Still Pend
Pending appropriations of $10,000,000 in additional funds for public school aid, $9,000,000 for a state medical school, $5,000,000 for state aid for county roads and other items from the postwar reserve fund would just about erase a $31,500,000 surplus in the general revenue fund.

On that basis, there wouldn't be a chance for Missouri income tax payers to get the promised rebate even if the governor's income tax reduction program was enacted.

There just wouldn't be any surplus money which with to pay the rebate.

Members of the House appropriations committee, Republicans and Democrats, said they had that in mind when they specified that the school aid money come directly from surplus.

Appropriations from the postwar reserve fund also take a whack at the governor's tax reduction plan because the reserve fund is just a paper fund, set up from the surplus.

Expense Is Still There
It's like taking your money out of your wallet and putting it into another pocket before paying the bill.

Money from the postwar reserve fund must come from general revenue. And that was the fund the governor was counting on for the income tax refunds.

So if the appropriations remain about the same as now outlined and the governor's bill is passed by the legislature this late in the session, the taxpayers won't see any gravy next March when they make their income tax payments.

Smith's program would just be on the books until the state could build up another surplus.

Land Scrip Won't Buy Oil Fields

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(P)—The government refused today to turn over 4,000 acres of undersea oil fields to the owners of government land scrip issued as early as 1855.

A claim to the rich properties by E. L. Cord, one-time manufacturer of the Cord automobile, and ten associates was turned-down by Secretary of the Interior Chapman.

The oil lands are off the coasts of Texas, California and Louisiana. Cord and the others claimed them in exchange for scrip, or land certificates, issued by the government between 1855 and 1907.

These certificates allowed early settlers and Indians to take unoccupied public land of their choice in exchange for lands taken from them.

Some scrip was given as bonuses to Civil War and other veterans.

Cord Group Spends A Million
Cord, 56, now living in Beverly Hills, Calif., and his associates bought up unused certificates for a reported total of $1,000,000. Then they laid claim to the submerged oil land. The Supreme Court has held the federal government has "paramount interest" in this land.

Rejecting the applications, Chapman said the properties involved were outside the category of public lands and in several other ways did not fulfill the requirements for lands that could be exchanged for scrip.

The Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management director, Marion Clawson, said the government does not know how much land scrip is still outstanding.

The total was given in a 1943 report, however, at 16,644 acres or more.

A Product Of Its Time
"The scrip served a splendid purpose in its time," Clawson told a reporter, "in the frontier-day development of millions of acres in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and other states."

"But now most of the public lands suitable for agriculture have been taken. The Department has for years sponsored legislation which would set a deadline for the use of scrip and clear up the situation once for all."

Dove of Peace Sent To U. S. at the U. N.

PARIS, Nov. 21—(P)—A white dove of peace in a blue cage was delivered to the United States delegation to the United Nations Tuesday.

The bird arrived by messenger. The delegation said it had no idea who sent it.

Settle Strike That Would Cut Off Plasma

Walkout Is Averted In Blood Plant By Unanimous Vote

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21—(P)—Ratification of a new contract by union chemical workers has averted a strike which threatened drastically to slow down the flow of blood plasma to the armed forces in Korea.

Herbert Heath, president of Local 86, United Chemical Workers (CIO), said only 75 of the 975 union members were absent from the meeting and that those attending voted unanimously for the agreement with Sharp and Dohme, Philadelphia pharmaceutical firm. The agreement was perfected earlier in Washington during a 16-hour meeting with arbitrators.

The strike, scheduled to start last midnight, would have halted the processing of the vital fluid at the company's nearby West Point, Pa., plant. That plant supplies about one fourth of the plasma sent to the armed forces.

The company-union announcement said the new 12-month contract calls for an immediate 4.4 per cent wage increase, a wage reopening clause after six months, automatic wage increases on temporary transfers to higher job classifications, and a modified security clause. The latter supersedes a maintenance of membership clause.

Union spokesmen said the maintenance of membership or union shop rule requires all employees to join the union. Under the modified security provision, they said, non-union men keep their present jobs, the membership requirement applying only to new employees. The new agreement also permits the resignation of any member from the union within 30 days of the signing of the contract. Thereafter, however, members must remain in the union for the life of the contract.

Papa's In A Dither! Doesn't Want Baby Born Out In The Rain

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 21—(P)—An excited man ran into a garage, shouting: "The baby's coming! What am I going to do?"

"Come in out of the rain," suggested mechanic Thornley Hogan.

But Benjamin Vegas, 21, dashed back to his car. Hogan called police, then went to the car—his 17-year-old Mrs. Vegas was giving birth to a 7-pound daughter yesterday.

"I didn't want our first baby born out in the rain," Vegas said. "I'm sorry if I scared the mechanic."

Train Derailed, Only Porter, of 200, Hurt

GILMAN, Ill., Nov. 21—(P)—The Illinois Central railroad's Louisiana, 17 coach train from Memphis, was derailed at Gilman Tuesday. A porter was the only person reported injured.

George Elliott, editor of the Gilman Star, said the cause of the derailed train left the rails but all remained upright. Cause of the derailment was not determined immediately.

100-Year-Old School House Sells For More Than It Cost

DEXTER, N. Y., Nov. 21—(P)—A one-room school house was sold at auction today for $350.

Records show it cost $275-300 but all remained upright. Cause of the derailment was not determined immediately.

Cook Stages Act To Arouse Sympathy

FBI Man's Testimony Hurts Badman's Claim Of Insanity

EL CENTRO, Calif., Nov. 21—(P)—The FBI man who took kill William E. Cook's signed confession threw damaging testimony today against the saved-off gunman's claim of insanity.

Henry Plaxico, FBI agent at Butte, Mont., but formerly stationed at San Diego, testified that Cook, after signing the statements last January, said: "I guess the only thing I can do from here on out is act crazy and hope to get the sympathy of the people."

Plaxico said he took full statements from Cook in San Diego last Jan. 16, 17 and 18, following the outlaw's capture and return from Mexico. The FBI agent said that Cook freely related details of the slayings of the five-member Carl Mosser family and of Robert H. Dewey, Seattle salesman.

It Worked Once
In his murder trial here, Cook has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity in the killing of Dewey on the nearby desert. He already is under 300-year sentence at Alcatraz prison for the Mosser kidnap murders.

At the time he signed the statements, Cook also cracked, according to the agent: "How high do they hang you in Oklahoma?"

Plaxico told the jury that he and other officers present "didn't answer directly—but we indicated high enough."

The prosecution here is asking the death penalty in California's gas chamber.

UN Seems Willing To OK Red Offer On A Buffer Zone

MUNSAN, Korea, Thursday, Nov. 22—(P)—Agreement looked near this Thanksgiving Day on a buffer zone plan designed to bring a Korean truce by Christmas.

The United Nations Command apparently was willing to accept a new Communist counter-proposal provided the Reds would agree to clarify—in writing—precisely when the fighting would stop.

The Red proposal, submitted during a two-hour subcommittee session Wednesday, resembled in most respects an Allied formula for truce by Christmas proposed last Saturday.

(A) Peiping radio commentary heard in San Francisco said the Communist delegates stated at Wednesday's session that "they agreed in principle" to the Allied proposal of Nov. 17, but noted the Allied proposal was not in the form of a formal agreement.

Reds Want Formal Pact
(The Red radio, quoted from a dispatch from Komsom, said the Communist asked for a complete and formal agreement on the buffer issue that would include: 1. Establishing the principle for fixing the demarcation line and demilitarized zone; 2. The immediate determination of the buffer zone's location; 3. Possible revisions of the cease-fire line prior to the final signing of the armistice agreement.

While the Reds agreed verbally not to demand a pullback of troops until the final truce was signed, sealed and delivered, the U. N. Command wanted that assurance down in black and white.

The U. N. negotiators promised to bring what they called "necessary revisions" of the Communist proposal to today's subcommittee session at Panmunjom, scheduled Wednesday.

Allies Ask 2 Revisions
There were two revisions sought by the Allies:

"Clarification of when troops should be withdrawn from the buffer zone. Asked Wednesday when the Reds would have troops pulled back, North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Song Ho said, "After the agreement is signed."

Lee was not asked whether he meant the full armistice agreement or simply an agreement on the buffer zone issue, item two on the agenda. The U. N. wanted this cleared up.

2. The Allies also were expected to insist on more specific reference to continuation of the fighting until the full armistice agreement is signed and sealed.

The Red proposal merely says "in view of the fact that hostilities will continue until the signing . . ." In the U. N. version of the buffer plan, agreement on the principles of continuing hostilities was put at the top of the program.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chief of the two-man U. N. sub-delegation, said Wednesday he didn't care if this were at the top or the bottom of the compromise proposal. The Allies, however, did not like the vagueness of the Red statement.

The official United Nations spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols told correspondents Wednesday night he was "more optimistic" than he had been for some time. The long debate on the cease-fire line began July 27.

Bomb Must Be Banned
She insisted that the countries agree on a declaration outlawing the atomic bomb immediately. She also objected that the western resolution gave no clear answer on the issue of military bases. The Russians have been objecting to U. S. bases around the globe.

Lester B. Pearson of Canada defended the western proposals. The Canadian external affairs minister, apparently anticipating a Vishinsky blast at the North Atlantic Pact meetings in Rome, told the committee the Atlantic alliance is purely defensive and plans no aggression.

Tigers Lose 21 To 0 To NCK Hornets

Sedallians Victim Of Aerial Attack By Alvin Fuson

Smith-Cotton Tigers lost their fire in North Kansas City, Friday night, and came back to Sedalia a defeated team to the tune of 0-21. The Tigers had all the steam released when Northtown came through with a sleeper play and caught Sedalia flat-footed—that turned the table for the Hornets who didn't let up a minute.

Alvin Fuson steered the Hornets on their way by "flipping" three touchdown passes. It all started in the second quarter when Fuson picked out Don Cowden, who pulled a sleeper. Cowden pulled away from his team, laid down on the ground until the ball was passed from the center to Fuson and then jumped to his feet and received the pass on his 20 yard line and dashed down the field for the initial TD.

Pep Talk Fails
At the halftime period a pep talk didn't seem to rekindle the fire to build up the old Smith-Cotton team, and the third quarter opened with both teams battling back and forth. But in the final minutes of that stanza, Gil Divilbiss, Hornet left end, cut back over center and took a pass from Fuson and went 40-yards for the second touchdown.

The first team took the kickoff after which Coach Ralph Dow began calling in his first stringers and sending out his recruits. When the first string players admitted they weren't doing the job Dow began giving his youngsters a try at the game. One more score was made on the sophomore, it coming in the fourth quarter when Fuson tossed to Larry Perry on a screen pass and went about 35 yards to pay dirt.

Make Extra Points
Justice added two points after touchdowns, and Cottrell the other. One bus had trouble and delayed the start back to Sedalia, then reaching the highway west of Warrensburg, icy roads were experienced, thus making it a long tiresome trek back home.

Many of the Tigersmen will now turn their attention to basketball, others will start training for track, hoping to produce better standings for the teams in those sports.

S-C Track Team Finishes Sixth

The Smith-Cotton high school cross country track team in competition at Forest Park, St. Louis, placed sixth in a meeting with fourteen other high school teams. It was a creditable showing the Tigers made according to the "champion" authorities in competing against top-notch teams from St. Louis and Eastern Missouri high schools.

Coach Robert Karnes stated he was well pleased with the improvement the squad has made in recent weeks. Karnes is confident Smith-Cotton will be in the top running when the state meet rolls around next spring.

Chester O'Bannon placed 25th in the two-mile run; Jim Shepherd 26th, Richard Stephens 27th and Lonnie Benson 40th and Don Stretcher 41st.

The star of the event taking top honors was Keith Bacon, of Springfield, which school won the meet, he setting a new record for the state and team covering the two miles in 9:35.7 minutes.

The results follow:
Springfield 19; Hadley 60; Beaumont 87; Kirkwood 91; Summit 134; Sedalia, 157; Cleveland, 212; Webster Groves, 222; Lounsbury 243; Maplewood, 266; Hannibal 317; Vashon, 355.

Jr. Legion Team Enjoys Banquet

The annual baseball dinner was held for the Junior Legion baseball team at Charlie's Coffee Shop, Tuesday night. The dinner was sponsored by the American Legion Post 16. Sixteen Junior Legion players were present at the luncheon.

Coach George Ray introduced the players, who all made short talks concerning the past season. Coach Ray thanked the boys for their cooperation of the past year.

Other talks were made by Cecil Glenn state commissioner of the Junior Legion, Marion Meyers, chairman of the American Legion Post 16, baseball committee; Dick Wood; W. B. Loveland, Howard M. Durrill, and Dick Burk of all the committee. Mr. Meyers, introduced Mr. Burk as the new chairman for the 1952 season. Paul Mines publicity and scorekeeper for the past year also gave a short talk.

Players present at the luncheon were: Bob Bartlett, Larry Mines, Gary Wickfield, "Sonny" Thomas, Bobby Lane, Elroy Burton, Jimmy Schmitt, Bill Arnold, Floyd Burton, Billy Day, "Skip" Schulz, Carl Miller, "Buck" Bennett, Jim Fall, Jimmy Swafford and C. H. Williams. Manager Cliff Barr and W. A. Smith of the Smith Motor company were unable to attend.

Arrive Late For Funeral

Charles R. Johnson, who is in the Navy, arrived home Thursday, called by the accidental death of his father, C. J. Johnson, 405 East Seventh on Friday, Nov. 9. He did not arrive in time for the funeral services, which were on Monday.

Mrs. Harvey Davis and son, Ray, of Seattle, Wash., arrived Tuesday, also too late for the services. Mrs. Davis, a stepdaughter of Mr. Johnson, plans to stay here awhile with her mother.

Brockman Brothers Are Reunited In Korea; One Sees Other Wounded During a Battle

Just about a year ago Melvin V. Brockman, 21, and Verdean Brockman, 19, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur A. Brockman, 1916 South Stewart, enlisted in the Army a week apart.

Melvin had been working on a farm for Gene Helman, route 4 and not too far away on the farm of Paul Reed, route 4, Verdean and his father work. They all came home every day for lunch and, with their mother, had a good time together.

But the boys felt they should go into service and so they did. Then, seven months ago, they were both sent overseas to Korea. One went by ship and one by plane.

Things hadn't been very good for either of them for things are not too good for any soldier in Korea. Then suddenly there was a very bright spot on the horizon. It was not call time for chow and as Verdean sat listening he heard Melvin's name called and the brothers were together again—so glad to see each other that it was the next thing to being home.

The reunion came at the "Victory" Division Replacement company and they were assigned to Love Company of the 19th "Rock of Chickamauga" Regiment.

They entered the company as riflemen and were assigned to different platoons. Both were made assistant machine gunners at the same time. Then squad leaders and finally both were promoted to corporal.

But the brothers didn't stop there—they were later promoted to sergeants the same day.

When asked about their similar advancements, Verdean replied: "I guess we tried to outdo each other, but it didn't work."

However, since then, Verdean went up another notch to sergeant 1/c, but Melvin has been wounded and just as soon as he gets out of the hospital and back to the fighting he is going to catch up with Verdean.

Verdean had some bad moments there on that fighting line. He had just seen his buddy killed and then he saw his brother carried off the battlefield. He didn't know how bad he was hurt and there wasn't a thing he could do but keep on fighting. He finally got someone to find out how serious his brother was injured and the comforting word came back that it wasn't too bad.

Marvin, by this time, is probably back in the line with him because the injury was from the explosion of a phosphorus hand grenade and his hands were not burned seriously.

Verdean said he is probably back in the line with him because the injury was from the explosion of a phosphorus hand grenade and his hands were not burned seriously.

Contract Let For Route AA In Pettis Co.

A contract for constructing 3.3 miles of state supplementary (farm-to-market) Route AA in Pettis county, north of Green Ridge, westerly, has been awarded Howard Construction company, Sedalia, by the State Highway Commission. The work will cost about $65,273.

The new road will be graded, a 100-foot deck girder bridge installed over Elk Fork of Muddy Creek, and a granular, all-weather surface applied. Construction will be carried out under supervision from the commission's Division 4 office in Kansas City, of which H. M. Brush is division engineer. William J. Groves, division construction engineer, will direct the activities through a project engineer to be assigned.

Route AA will leave Route 127(A) at Prairie View church, north of Green Ridge. It will follow an existing road west past Prairie View school, cross the east prong of Elk Creek near the east property lines of the William Breeden and Q. A. Morgan estate properties, cross Elk Fork at the Amos Miller and Lee Volfat farms and terminate between those farms at the north-south county road there.

The Route AA project was among similar supplementary road improvement projects on which the commission now has completed contracts on bids received Nov. 2 in Jefferson City. Other work was in: Moberly, Lincoln, Shelby, Henry, Howard, Maries, Montevue, Cole, Greene, Wright, Sullivan and Chariton counties.

Blood Covered Dog May Lead To Man's Body

Searchers Still Look For Body of Hunter Lost Since Nov. 5th

CENTERVILLE, Mo., Nov. 21.—(P)—Appearance of a dog smeared in human blood has thrown a gruesome cast over continuing efforts to find W. C. "Bill" Bounds, 79, of Vulcan, who disappeared on the first day of the deer season, Monday, Nov. 5, according to Warner Bounds, a grandson.

Bounds was last seen that afternoon by a son-in-law, Ervin Lones, St. Louis, when Bounds left a truck the two were riding in to be gone "a few minutes" up a hollow to look for deer. He was never seen again.

Searchers, ranging in size from 25 to 300 men daily have combed the area, mid-way between Redford and Annapolis, with no trace of Bounds being found.

A few days ago a dog owned by Charles Cox, who lives a mile and a half from where Bounds was last seen, reappeared after being gone all night and was covered with blood.

A blood sample sent to the St. Louis police laboratories was identified as being human blood, according to a report relayed by the highway patrol radio at Willow Springs.

Warner Bounds said today efforts to get the dog to retrace its footsteps have been futile.

The family of the missing man has put up $100 reward for information leading to location of the man who disappeared during a 10-inch snowfall.

Bounds has six children, Robert of Fredericktown, Lee, Ora and Mrs. Blanche Evans and Mrs. Nora Lones all of St. Louis, and Mrs. Cora Lewis of Kansas City.

The aged man had accompanied a deer hunting party of relatives and friends, mostly from St. Louis, to a cabin in the Low Hollow area. The group had moved from stand to stand during the day but the weather materially worsened and game was scant.

Lones and bounds rode ahead of the main group in a truck and at a point some three miles southeast of the cabin bounds decided to take his shotgun and "hunt a little up a hollow." Lones waited in vain for his return.

Lending further mystery to Bounds' disappearance is the fact that he knew the territory thoroughly and had been in excellent health.

SPA Opens Bids On Its Project In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 21.—(P)—Bids for construction of a New Southwestern Power Administration substation and control building in Springfield, a project amounting to more than $672,000—were opened by SPA officials in the Tulsa district office.

Lowest bid for the station, a unit of SPA's Springfield-Mansfield-Carthage power line, was submitted by the Gabriel Electric company of Dallas, Texas. The bid was $566,417. Bids were also opened for installation of a switch board and equipment in the control building. Lowest bid submitted by the Westinghouse Corporation was $116,713.

OBITUARIES

Louis F. Ritchie, 75, a member of a pioneer family in Sedalia, active in political and lodge circles here for many years, was found dead in bed at his home, 123 East Broadway, about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning by his wife, Mrs. May Vawter Ritchie, an instructor in the Broadway school.

Mr. Ritchie was born in Sedalia May 4, 1876, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Ritchie, and was married at Brookville, Ind., on Sept. 23, 1911. Since that time the home has been in Sedalia continuously. Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Miss Mary Cecelia Ritchie, a former member of the Democrat and Capital news staffs, and now with the Springfield, Mo. Leader and Press, where she has been the past few years in the news department.

Miss Ritchie, on learning of her father's death, started for Sedalia and arrived Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Ritchie, as she prepared to leave for school to assume her teaching duties, saw her husband apparently asleep in his bedroom and at first did not disturb him. A short time later she called to arouse him and received no response. She investigated, then called in Dr. W. A. Beckmeyer, who had been treating him for the past several years, more recently when he was afflicted with a heart ailment. Death was determined as being from that cause.

Mr. Ritchie was, in his connection with fraternal organizations, a district organizer for the Knights and Ladies of Security, later the United Benefit Association, in which he held various offices. He was also a charter member of the Knights of the Macabees tent, named for him as Ritchie tent.

Politically he was a Republican, promoting interests of that party in numerous campaigns and in 1946 was a candidate for circuit clerk, running against the present incumbent, Bryan Howe. His political position was as a clerk of the magistrate court.

He was a member of the Congregational-Presbyterian church and in his church life gave considerable time to affiliating in the various activities.

Several decades ago he interested himself in the formation of the Sedalia Athletic club, which had a gymnasium in the old Wood's Opera House building, Second and Lamine, and he was manager of it for several years. It promoted boxing and other athletic events including basketball.

In civic affairs he was always ready to lend support for those things he considered for the betterment of his home town.

Funeral services will be held at the Gillespie funeral home at 2 p. m. Friday. The Rev. Glenn Lindsey of the Congregational-Presbyterian church will officiate. Organ music will be furnished by Mrs. Mabel DeWitt.

Burial will be in the Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Maude E. Walker, 2829 Bales, Kansas City, Mo., died Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at her home. The funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Newman's funeral home. A stepson, August Walker, 414 West 16th, attended the funeral services.

Miss Emma George, 82, a life long resident of Green Ridge, died Wednesday morning at her home. Rest home in Windsor where she had been a patient 15 months.

Surviving are four nephews, Eddie E. and Warren George of Green Ridge; Arnold George of Windsor and Robert L. George of Smithton, and one niece, Mrs. Beatrice M. Campbell of the state of California.

The body is at the Huston-Turner funeral home in Windsor. Tentative funeral arrangements are for services at the Presbyterian church in Green Ridge Friday, Nov. 23, at 2 p. m.

Casper Holtz Services Funeral services for Casper Holtz, who died at his home near Holden, were held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the East Sedalia Baptist church with the pastor, the Rev. Walter P. Arnold, officiating.

Active pallbearers were Gordon Smith, Harry McFarrich, John Hutchins, Charles Shaffer, Peter T. O'Brien and Ira Moore. Honorary pallbearers were Willis Watts, Clarence Anderson, James Green, Sam Freund and John Mass.

Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery.

Funeral of Edward Lee Glenn Graveside services will be held at 2 p. m., Thursday at Hickory Point cemetery for Edward Lee Glenn, who died Thursday at Culver City, Calif. The Rev. J. W. Kirchner, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Green Ridge, will officiate. Pallbearers will be nephews from Green Ridge vicinity and Sedalia.

Mr. Glenn was born Oct. 17, 1865 at Bloomington, Ill., and had been a resident of Sedalia most of his life. He left here for California about 15 years ago and resided with his daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith and Mrs. Zelma Heard, of Culver City, who with three sons, Robert and Dennis Glenn, both of Culver City, and Ovid Glenn, of Kansas City, survive.

The body arrived Wednesday morning over the Missouri Pacific and was taken to the Gillespie funeral home.

The body will remain at Gillespie until 1 p. m. Thursday.

Services For Mrs. Van Hoff Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Mary Van Hoff, who died at Quincy, Ill. Saturday evening, were held at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Sacred Heart church, of which she was a member, the Rev. L. J. Kipping officiating.

Interment was in the Calvary cemetery.

Tuesday evening the rosary was recited at the McLaughlin chapel by the church altar society and Daughters of Isabella, to which organizations she belonged.

Women's Division Beats Community Chest Quota

The women's division of the Community Chest drive has met and exceeded its quota, according to Mrs. Cline Cain, chairman. A total of $2,194.88 has been reported to the Community Chest headquarters by the women workers, whose quota had been set at $2,000.

A few districts are not completely reported and it is likely, according to Mrs. Cain, that these reports will increase the total in the near future.

Organized labor has added further to its contribution, with Painters Local, No. 726, giving $7; Bricklayers Local, No. 24, $10; Missouri Pacific Shop Crafts, $25; City Firemen's Local, No. 23, $22; and Telephone Workers of America, $5.

Mrs. John Rush, chairman of Bowling Green township, reported contributions of $54.25. Houstonia township, under the chairmanship of Miss Mary E. Tevebough, reported an additional $93.62. Miss Tevebough was assisted by Mrs. Ramon Wicker, Mrs. W. T. May, Mrs. Fred Neef, Mrs. Emma E. Tolson and Mrs. Shelton Rissler. This brings Houstonia's total gifts to $215.12.

Additional business firms reported as 100 per cent, both firm and employees, are The Sedalia Democrat and Capital, Haussman company, Pepsi-Cola Bottling company and Porter Real Estate company.

The total of chest contributions to date is $18,135.85.

Government Approves 50 Per Cent Growth In Newsprint Output

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(P)—The government today approved an almost 50 per cent expansion of domestic newsprint production facilities.

But officials said it may be some time before necessary materials can be made available.

The Defense Production Administration (DPA), although approving the expansion, said that "more urgent defense projects" will have to get needed steel, copper and aluminum supplies before the newsprint plants can get their materials.

The DPA's office of end requirements approved an expansion program that would add 490,000 tons to the yearly production of newsprint.

This compares with total present U. S. newsprint production of about 1,100,000 tons. The U. S. imports about 5,000,000 tons a year from Canada.

The DPA order puts newsprint production in the class of "essential" industries, making new plants eligible for accelerated tax amortization and materials priorities.

The DPA said it made its decision in recognizing "the importance of providing sufficient newsprint so that newspapers will be able to continue to carry out their important function of keeping the people fully informed."

US Authorities Seize Oats-Loaded Turkeys

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(P)—The Food and Drug Administration said today it has seized 10,800 pounds of turkeys loaded with dry oats.

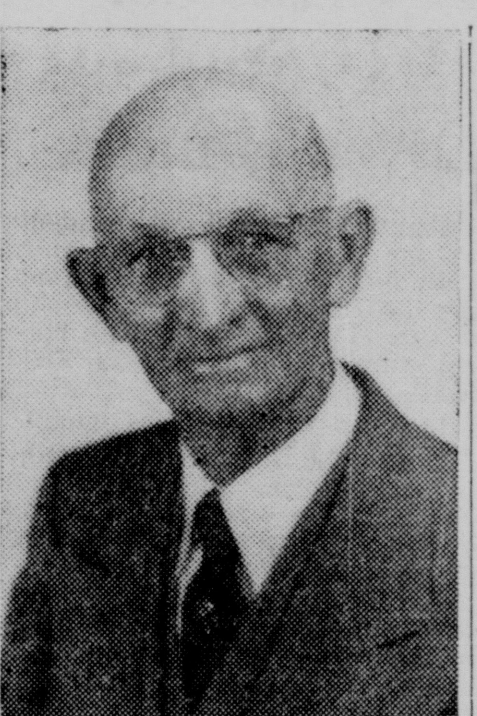

The agency said in a news release that as much as one and one fourth pounds of oats were found in each bird. The birds were found in a "New York dressed," which meant that only the heads and feet were removed.

The agency said the consumer would have had to pay the market price for turkey for the worthless oats.

The agency also seized 3,600 frozen chickens at Buffalo, N. Y. It said each bird was packed in a plastic bag which also contained eight per cent of water in the form of ice.

"Consumers should not have to pay chicken prices for ice water," it said.

The reports came from Charles A. Herrmann, district chief at New York City, and Allen T. Retzlaff, chief at Buffalo.

DIES IN SLEEP—Louis F. Ritchie, well known Sedalia, active many years in fraternal lodge circles and Republican politics, was found dead at his home, 123 East Broadway, early Wednesday. He had been in declining health for the past few years.

Freedom Forum At Joint Lion, Kiwanis Meeting

The Kiwanis and Lions clubs met jointly at noon Wednesday at the Bothwell hotel in the Ambassador room at which time James W. "Jim" Green, vice-president of the Sedalia Jaycees, gave a talk on "This Is Our Problem."

Mr. Green illustrated points of his talk by placards and carried it through the four objects, first, Identity Socialism and Communism; second, Superiority of the American Way of Life; third, Understanding the American Way of Life; and fourth, Preserve the American Way of Life.

The talk is a part of a Freedom Forum being sponsored by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce. It is being presented to all organizations desiring to hear it. Several members of the Jaycees are preparing to carry the forum to other organizations in Sedalia and surrounding communities.

The speaker was introduced by Ed Smith, secretary of the Lions, who was program chairman for the day.

Harold Seaberg, president of the Lions, presided over the meeting and introduced T. H. Young, president of Kiwanis and Kiwanis Secretary Pinkney Miller.

Burl Sammons was introduced by Dr. Glenn A. Walker as a new member of the Lions.

Next week Gordon Buckner, 16, Marshall, will be the guest speaker at the Lions meeting. The young man, a member of the Marshall Boy Scouts, will speak on the World Jamboree of Boy Scouts held in Austria this year.

Sen. Duff Denies Deal With Truman To Elect Gen. Ike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(P)—Senator Duff (R-Pa) declared in answer to a Chicago Tribune question today that he is not allied with President Truman in an effort to elect Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower President.

Duff, a leader in the Eisenhower-for-President movement, issued a statement telling why he is booing the general. He said he is convinced Eisenhower is "middle-of-the-road Republican of the Theodore Roosevelt type" who can furnish the nation the leadership "so necessary at this critical hour."

Duff said the statement was issued because the Chicago Tribune today asked him this question: "Are you allied with President Truman in promoting General Eisenhower for President?"

Duff, in his statement, said he told the Tribune he would answer the question "immediately provided they would guarantee to print my full answer and not merely such parts as suited their evident purpose."

Duff said that the Tribune had not accepted his proposal after five hours and so he had made his reply available to all news media.

"They asked the question and here is my answer, although they don't seem to want it that way," he said. "Of course I am not allied with President Truman, have never been and never will be, as everybody knows, including the Chicago Tribune."

The Tribune is supporting Senator Taft (R-Ohio) for the presidency.

28 Go-Out On Strike At Chillicothe Plant

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Nov. 21.—(P)—Twenty-eight men were on strike today at the Chillicothe Industries, Inc. for what they claimed was lack of a contract between the company and the union.

Anthony Venneman, leader of the local labor group, was reported out of town today and could not be reached for comment. The group is a member of the Hod Carriers Building and Common Laborers Union of America (AFL).

A contract with the U. S. government to build parts of bridges for use by American armed forces was not affected by the strike, a company spokesman said, since the contract is not to start until about Jan. 1.

The factory manufacturers metal tanks and farm equipment.

40 Flee For Lives In Des Moines Fire

DES MOINES, Nov. 21.—(P)—Fire starting in a third floor room drove about 40 persons out of the four-story Plaza hotel here today.

Firemen confirmed the actual fire damage to the room where the blaze started, and that immediately above. But smoke swirled rapidly through the hotel, forcing guests from all floors into the street.

There were ten persons on the third floor when the fire broke out about 1:30 p. m. Five went to the ground floor by elevator. Two went down a fire escape and three were removed by ladder.

100,776 Casualties In Korea

American Fighting Men Killed, Wounded Or Missing In War As Reported To Date

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(P)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 100,176 today. The Defense department's weekly summary, reporting an increase of 950 since last week, sent the total over the 100,000 mark. By comparison, U. S. combat casualties in the first year of this country's participation in World War II were 59,000.

Of the 950 new battle casualties reported today, 150 were killed outright in action; 762 were wounded, and 38 are missing.

Following is a summary of the reports, covering casualties whose families received notification through last Friday:

Killed in action	71,442	762	72,404
Wounded	12,382	38	12,620

Total	99,226	950	100,176
Battle deaths (X)	16,903	187	16,971

(Y)—Includes killed in action, 1,532 fatally wounded and 784 dead, originally reported missing.

(Y)—After deducting from gross total 1,300 returned, 174 known captured and 184 known dead.

Following is a breakdown of total casualties by services: army 81,996, navy 1,143, air force 915, marine corps 6,116.

American families have been told of some 22,000 casualties among their men since Gen. Matthey B. Ridgway first offered to talk about an armistice on June 30.

Chinese Cause Casualties About seven out of every 10 American battle losses have been suffered since the Chinese Reds poured across the Manchurian border into the then virtually won Korean battlefield a little more than one year ago.

The 70,000 U. S. casualties reported since the Chinese entered the war include nearly 8,000 of the 12,500 Americans listed at one time or another as missing in action. This missing figure has been reduced to a current total of around 10,800. Among these are the some 5,000 Americans reported by Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the war crimes section of the U. S. Eighth army in Korea, to have been killed by their captors.

General Ridgway said in a report yesterday there was "considerable evidence" that approximately 6,000 U. S. soldiers captured by the Communists were victims of "death by atrocity." He said there was no "convincing evidence" of the number of atrocity deaths, and that 254 victims had been identified and their families notified.

Most of the 6,000 who, the general said, may have been atrocity victims, are included in the current missing category, his report stated.

Half Since Retreats Approximately half of all U. S. casualties in Korea have occurred since the bitter retreats and rear guard withdrawals of last winter and during the series of Red spring offensives and UN counter blows which have moved the battle line back to the center of Korea.

Fof the army and the navy, the Korean conflict has been the fourth in U. S. history, ranking in human casualties after World War II, the Civil War and the First World War.

Current marine corps losses of over 16,000 make this undeclared war more costly in killed and wounded than all the wars, campaigns and expeditions which the Leathernecks fought from the Revolution until the start of World War II.

The records show that proportionately fewer Americans have been reported missing in Korea than during World War II.

Texas Postman Gets Free Holiday Dinner

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 21.—(P)—The carrier Ambers L. Crenshaw was walking his beat when he spotted a large brown wild duck swooping in for a landing on the white surface of a street.

The duck hit the pavement hard. Crenshaw lunged into the street and caught it with his bare hands. He opened a mail storage box and stowed the fowl away until he made his return trip that night.

The Crenshaw family is looking forward to his bird caught duck for Thanksgiving dinner.

Nation Will Give Thanks, Express Desire for Peace

By the Associated Press A nation half at war will observe Thanksgiving day tomorrow while its leaders are searching for peace through-out an uneasy world.

In the United States, turkey will be plentiful but expensive. The day will sparkle with warmer weather in the east, with football games everywhere.

Halfway across the world, in grim Pannunum, the American officers have promised an answer to the latest Communist counter-proposal for a cease fire in Korea. There was cautious optimism that both sides are coming closer together on the first of several difficult problems to be solved before the guns are stilled.

Combat men will pause, wherever possible, to commemorate a day halfway between peace and all-out war. For most, the army says, there will be turkey dinners and the trimmings. Some, on the battlefield, may have to wait for theirs.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR. Associated Press News Analyst

For some years the United States has been sending military men as ambassadors to Moscow. President Truman now proposes to send a philosopher, and one who recently has stirred up some controversy.

(Tagging a man as a philosopher should not be taken as prima facie evidence that he is impractical, though the word has taken on that connotation among many Americans. They know vaguely about plato, but hardly at all of John Dewey or George Santayana, or that the atom bomb is a product of philosophy.)

George Kennan is certainly not an impractical man. It was he who, five years ago, put into a few brief sentences the idea of "patient but firm and vigilant containment of Russian expansive tendencies" which has been at the core of American foreign policy ever since.

The suggestion that he become ambassador to Moscow to succeed several generals and admirals represents no real change in approach to Russia, however. American ambassadors in Moscow have little impact at the Kremlin. They do, however, have some impact on the State Department through their assessment of current events in Russia.

From this standpoint, Kennan is an expert, with broad experience in Russian affairs both from service there and in the State Department. He has been on leave of absence for two years as a member of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, which is something of a sanctuary for philosophers. The time of his return to duty coincides with the approaching retirement of Admiral Kirk from Moscow.

The controversy in which Kennan is now involved is one among the historical philosophers rather than something which Congress would know anything about or which might cause any question about his appointment.

He recently published a little book of speeches and essays on American foreign policy since 1900. In it he espouses a view that American policy should be based on the hard facts of the world power situation, avoiding moralistic slogans and squeamishness, though not advocating immorality. Several of the historical have taken this view recently. Others, assisted especially by Acheson and Dulles, take the view that the only thing which can bring change in world affairs, the only way in which American policy can be different from those of all the powers which have gone before it and failed, is the combination by which American interests are approached from the standpoint of traditional American morals.

At other times, Kennan sets up the idea of a perfected Americanism as the only example which can lead other peoples into the kind of world in which Americans wish to live. Yet to this reader he does seem to have somewhat clearer ideas about how Russia can be turned into a good neighbor as a result of war than through the influence of example.

One thing is fairly clear, however. If there is a possibility of peace through change in Russia, and if the West is to take full advantage of the first indications of such change, someone like Kennan will be among the first to tip us off. Philosophers don't permit their minds to freeze.

Duel Fizzles When Trial Dog Goes 'Over Hill'

BOONEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 21.—(P)—A duel that was expected to go a long way toward determining the southwest field trials champion fizzled out today when one dog was disqualified.

"Tennessee Crockett," handled by E. B. Epperson of Stillwater, Okla., went out of judgment when he disappeared from the judges' view for more than 20 minutes near the end of his two-hour hunt.

A field trial rule automatically disqualifies a dog that is not seen in action for a period of 20 minutes or more.

"Lone Survivor," a pointer owned by Dr. A. J. C. of Jonesboro, Ark., and handled by Leon Covington of Poteau, Okla., ran an excellent ground race in his heat. He flushed three coveys of birds.

The judges decided tonight to bring back two other dogs which competed with the original 24 entries. They are "The Deacon," handled by H. B. Pittman of Tyler, Tex., and "Betty Hellfly," handled by Convington.

The 1950 champion, "Warhoo Jake," also will make his debut in the trials tomorrow. Handled by Ed Mack Farrior of Haysville, La., "Jake" will be paired with "Saturn's Victorious Lady," owned by Powell Briscoe of Oklahoma City, and handled by Epperson.

Tomorrow's heats will decide the championship, worth $1,500 to the handler of the winner. "Warhoo Jake" is favored to retain his crown.

Under the supervision of Claude Boul, first vice-president are: agricultural division, Roy Copen; aviation and military affairs, E. W. Thompson; civic activities, Z. Lyle Brown; membership, John E. Zander; merchants division, Damon Hieronymus; reaction, David Grayson and finance Neal Reyburn.

Under the supervision of the second vice-president are: charities and solicitations, Leon Archias; legislation and State Fair, Chester Wolfe; industrial development, Mike Jankovic; public relations, Kenneth U. Love; organizational affairs, George Routzong; transportation division, J. H. Brunkhorst; convention and tourists, Ray Lippard.

These men will appoint the members of their committees.

Wind Fans Worst Fire In Hong Kong History

HONG KONG, Thursday, Nov. 22.—(P)—High winds kicked up by a typhoon last night fanned Akovloon village fire into one of the worst conflagrations in Hong Kong's history.

The fire, two known dead and 14 injured. The death toll may run higher.

More than 3,000 huts were destroyed. An estimated 15,000 to 20,000 persons were homeless. First estimates placed property damage close to $200,000.

Signs Of The Times

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—(P)—About half of the wage earners in the St. Louis area—those who serve as the lone source of income for their families—hold more than one job.
